COUNTY FINANCE BILL EXPECTED TO STIR BATTLE

Green Stands Firmly for Measure.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Real war, of which last Thursday's tilt in the state senate was just a sample, is expected to break forth in Illinois' legislative halls in Springfield today.

Gov. Dwight H. Green, in Chicago for the week-end, said he is prepared to battle for the passage of the Schnackenberg bill. This measure, which Gov. Green originally proposed, would create a special legislative commission to make a constant study of the financial needs of the local governments in Cook county, all of which are Democratically controled.

The Democrats called a meeting of their state representatives in the Morrison hotel last Saturday. At the gathering, it was said, there was a unanimous decision to block all legislation if necessary to prevent passage of the Schnackenberg bill.

Green Pledges Full Support.

In a brief interview before he left for Springfield last night, Gov. Green made a declaration of full support for the measure.

"I am for that bill 100 per cent," he explained. "For years local governments have come to Springfield asking for peg levies which would produce more revenue than would their regular tax rates. Neither the governor, the legislature, nor the taxpayer knows or can know whether the situation presented is fact or fiction.

[A pegged levy operates to give a local taxing body a fixed revenue regardless of the tax rates. In this case, the Chicago park district is asking a pegged levy of 10½ million dollars, up from $10,250,000. The pegged levy system has been used in Cook county for almost a decade because of the uncertainties of tax collection.]

"I believe that if the legislature is to pass peg levies, the taxpayers are entitled to know why they are passed, for what the money is needed, and how it is to be spent. To provide that knowledge is the only purpose of the Schnackenberg bill."

Many Bills Would be Perilled.

The ordinary life of this regular biennial session ends June 30. If the deadlock now threatened does develop it would mean the slaughter of dozens of important bills, including many considered vital to the state administration as well as those backed by the Democratic organization.

Such a deadlock, it is admitted by both sides, would require Gov. Green to call a special legislative session this summer, for in the balance are appropriations for some of his important departments and appropriations for other elected state officers.

Gov. Green's friends say he is determined to make the Schnackenberg bill a test of Republican loyalty. The present membership of the house includes 78 Republicans—one more than the constitutional majority required for the passage of bills. Even that margin of one vote has been broken by the absence of Representative J. Ward Smith of Ottawa, victim of a fractured hip.

Full Strength Needed.

Party loyalty would call for all 77 house members and the full Republican majority of 28 in the senate, where the Democrats have only 23 votes, to stand behind the governor.

Administration leaders are said to be watching four Republican representatives classified as under the control of Ald. William V. Pacelli [20th], one of the west side party leaders who opposed Green in the governorship primary last year. They are Peter C. Granata of Pacelli's district, the 17th; James J. Adduci [2d], Arthur T. Broche [1st], and Robert A. Petrone [21st].

Support Nonpartisan, Says Green.

Gov. Green has insisted his support of the Schnackenberg bill is not based on partisanship, but the charge was made at the meeting of Democratic representatives, which was attended by Mayor Kelly, that the purpose of the bill is to set up a "sniping propaganda agency" which would keep up a fire of criticism at the city hall.

Rather than consent to the creation of such an agency, it was declared at the meeting, the Democratic members of both house and senate will see the peg levies for the parks, the sanitary district, the public library, and the county go down to defeat.

A HOODOO! THAT'S ED'S WORD FOR IT!

Eddie Baker says he's always been a good colored boy—hard working, kind to his father, a straight living family man. In fact Eddie was driving his folks from their home at 4657 Winthrop avenue to the wayman Baptist church at Cleveland avenue and Elm street yesterday when it happened.

Eddie was whistling, and his folks were humming the chorus of "Shall We Gather at the River" as they rolled along the Outer drive at Fullerton avenue, as happy as happy could be.

The Whole Family's Upset.

Suddenly Eddie's hand hit the horn, his foot the brake pedal, and the folks slid off the rear seat to the floor.

A black cat had jumped in front of the car. Everybody in it felt and heard the bump. Eddie pulled over to the curb and climbed out of the car. The cat hadn't reappeared after the bump. And yet Eddie couldn't see it. He walked around the car—no trace of the cat.

When he parked near the church Eddie heard faint meows. He raised the hood. No cat. He looked under the back seat. No cat. He looked beneath the car. There was the black cat, sitting on the front axle and glaring!

It Just Won't Shoo!

Eddie cautiously pulled the cat out by the back of the neck. He put it on the curb and said, "Shoo." The cat leaped back on the axle.

As the congregation gathered around the car Eddie pulled the cat off again, and again the cat jumped back on the perch beneath the car. While the congregation watched in somber silence he got back in the auto and drove slowly to the Chicago park district garage at 3640 North Halsted street where he is an attendant.

The cat was still riding the axle when Eddie pulled into the garage. And it was still there eight hours later when Eddie took a look before starting for home.

"Good-by, auto," mosned Eddie. "Good-by. You been a good car. But you're just a hoodoo now. Good-by, auto—street car, here I come."

Day Reveals Inside of Plan to Merge U. S. and Britain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 15.—In an arresting radio address tonight, Representative Stephen A. Day, Republican congressman at large from Illinois, warned of the danger that President Roosevelt will take us not only into an undeclared war to defend the British empire, but into the proposed "Union Now" with Britain.

Representative Day said the plan is to merge congress in the parliament of the Anglo-American union, of which the rulers will be Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt.

Quotes Backers of Union.

"Lord Halifax has been sent here to put this deal over," said Day. "Anthony Eden has proclaimed it. Winston Churchill has said that the movement is flowing steadily onward, and like the great Mississippi river, cannot be checked. When Wendell Willkie went to London, he carried a note to Winston Churchill stating that the union would sail on. Ambassador Winant has just returned from Britain with a report that all is well.

"How near is this new union? American armed vessels now are acting as patrols all over the high seas escorting merchant ships to Britain. The President, proclaiming the freedom of the seas, has issued an order for an unlimited national emergency. He is carrying on an undeclared war with Germany and never will come to the congress for a declaration of war as provided in our constitution. Secretary Stimson and Attorney General Jackson have stated publicly that all previous international law has been canceled.

Government by Edict.

"Secretary Stimson testified before the senate committee on foreign relations that we are acting under the edicts of a conference of international lawyers held at Budapest, Hungary, in 1934; that President Roosevelt can make war anywhere in the world without any authorization from the congress.

"Plans are under way to ask the congress to recess and go home from the middle of July until after Labor day. The congress already has appropriated 43 billion dollars, while less than one-third of this sum is all that is needed for American defense.

"Experts in the army and navy have testified that we do not need an army of more than 800,000 for our own defense. On July 1, this army will consist of 1,500,000 men.

No Danger of Invasion.

"The congress is appropriating for this year 10 billion dollars for the army. Why such gigantic appropriations? All experts in the army and navy admit there is no danger of an invasion of this country by Hitler. Facts and figures have been given to absolutely prove this. Former President Hoover has stated that we can be of more help to Britain if we stay out of the war.

"Everyone in Washington knows we are unprepared to carry on successfully a foreign war at this time. Everyone in Washington knows we cannot have a two-ocean navy until 1946. Everyone in Washington knows Japan will attack us if we make war on Germany. Japan is bound by treaty with Germany to come to Germany's aid. We cannot successfully fight a war in both the Atlantic and the Pacific at the same time. You are asking what does all this mean?

Predicts Steps to Union.

"The will of the people is being broken down by every scheme and device to the point where we will accept an agreement which President Roosevelt will proclaim that he has made with Winston Churchill. The American navy will be pooled with the British navy; all private property will be seized by the President; strikes fomented by communists will furnish the occasion for the use of military force with which to take over manufacturing plants; Mayor La Guardia is forming the citizens into an army for home defense; Mrs. Roosevelt is about to draft American women into her army; all those who oppose these plans are called copperheads, Hitlerites, and fifth columnists.

"Charles Lindbergh and Senator Wheeler have been smeared. A magazine of wide circulation has carried

Pastors Oppose War

New York, June 15 (AP).—The Fellowship of Reconciliation announced today that more than 1,000 Protestant ministers have voiced "unalterable opposition" to America's "present threatened belligerency" and pledged themselves not to "bless, sanction, or support war." The ministers represent 45 states.

The Rev. Allan Knight Chalmers of New York said: "Such a statement seemed required because some people apparently think that ministers who have been preaching peace will back down now and find good reasons for changing their minds on the problem of the Christian in the time of war."

BRITISH CIRCLE DAMASCUS AND GAIN ON BEIRUT

Capture of 2 Cities Believed Near.

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—British and "Free French" took the key defenses of Damascus at Kissoue today and in an encircling movement advanced to within five miles on two sides of the Syrian capital, British reports from Jerusalem stated tonight.

At the same time a column advancing up the central front captured Jezzine and forced French troops in the coastal city of Sidon, 10 miles to the west, to fall back to within 12 miles of Beirut, the Lebanon capital and chief port.

The capture of Sidon, Jezzine, and Kissoue, all key defenses to Beirut and Damascus, meant the British had straightened out their line of penetration to a uniform depth of about 50 miles all the way from the coast to Damascus and apparently meant that the fall of the two capitals could not be long delayed.

Stand of Several Days.

After taking Kissoue, 10 miles south of Damascus, where the French made a stand of several days, the British and "Free French" rushed on to Nahia and crossed the Aswad river to within five miles of the gates of Damascus.

At the same time another column fought a flanking battle to the north and east of Damascus, passed Adliyah, and reached a point within five miles east of the capital.

Jezzine was taken by troops striking inland from the coast. In that position they threatened both Damascus from the west and Sidon from the east.

The French, who had hung on to positions at Sidon for three days despite bombing, land attacks, and almost constant naval fire from British warships off the coast, at once retired.

British Move Up.

The British, who had been held at bay by the heavy French artillery fire from the hills, at once moved up to the Nehr ed Damour, a river only 12 miles from Beirut.

The Vichy reports said heavy shelling from nine warships helped Australian troops crack the stand at Sidon. Other French reports also admitted the fall of Abou Kemal, border post on the Euphrates, to a British motorized column which moved in from Iraq.

[The Ankara correspondent of the National Broadcasting company, as heard in New York, yesterday said unconfirmed reports in the Turkish capital declared a British column striking thru Syria from Iraq had reached the Mediterranean sea. This would mean the British had gone around the important northern Syrian city of Aleppo.]

See Increased Axis Aid.

The British advances were made despite reports indicating that Germany and Italy are attempting to throw both sea and air forces into the battle to support the faltering French.

The RAF command in Cairo announced that an "enemy" vessel had been torpedoed near Beirut by aircraft of the fleet air arm. Use of the word "enemy" was considered significant, because the British have reserved that designation for the axis powers. They have not used it when speaking of the French forces fighting in Syria.

Units of the British Mediterranean fleet have been on offensive patrol along the Lebanon coast since the British and "Free French" invasion started June 8. These fleet operations had proceeded without molestation by axis forces, just as have the land operations within Syria.

Taken on by Fighters.

But today the RAF announced that German bombers and a fighter escort had "approached" the British warships and immediately were taken on by an RAF fighting force.

Whether these developments marked a full turn in the axis attitude of letting the French fight their own battle in Syria and Lebanon remained to be seen.

[The German high command said Nazi bombers had scored a direct hit on a heavy British cruiser near Beirut. A "successful" attack Friday on Cyprus, British island bastion guarding the sea route to Syria, was reported by the Germans. Dispatches from Cyprus, however, said little damage was caused.]

WAR GROUPS CRY FOR REVENGE IN U. S. SHIP SINKING

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 15.—While the sinking of the American ship Robin Moor by a Nazi submarine, with the loss of American lives, continued to inflame relations between the United States and Germany, President Roosevelt today became the target of a new barrage of appeals by prowar and anti-war groups.

Mrs. Coolidge.

With leaders of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies advocating convoy of arms cargoes to Britain by the American navy, the President received a memorial from the Fight for Freedom committee asking what he is waiting for. Apropos of the sinking of the Robin Moor, this organization of war firebrands, headed by Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.] and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, asked the President if he is waiting "for Hitler to get the jump on us—as he has on all other nations."

Urge Seizure of Outposts.

"Why not, for once, get the jump on Hitler, Mr. President?" said the memorial, which advocated seizure of the Portuguese Azores and Cape Verde Islands and the Spanish Canaries by the American navy as outposts of our defense. The Fight for Freedom committee also urged the "shooting of any axis U-boat and raider which the American navy sights," repeal of the neutrality act and severance of diplomatic relations with the axis powers.

Leaders of the America First committee were no less active, issuing fresh appeals to the people to make known to the President their overwhelming opposition to involvement in an undeclared war.

Mr. Roosevelt marked time on the incident of the Robin Moor, awaiting the complete report of the survivors' testimony which he expects to have in hand Tuesday.

If the complete report bears out the first account that the Robin Moor was sunk in violation of the treaty of 1930, Mr. Roosevelt will have his choice of several lines of action.

Treaty to Save Lives.

The treaty of 1930, signed by the naval powers, including Germany and the United States, provides that no submarine or other warship shall sink a merchant vessel without putting the crew and passengers in a place of safety. It specifically declares that lifeboats are not to be regarded as a place of safety unless there is land or a rescue vessel in close proximity.

The President might sever relations with Berlin or order the navy into action against German commerce raiders. Or he might content himself with addressing a stiff note of protest to Berlin with a demand for reparations for the Americans who perished and for the property destroyed.

GERMANY ORDERS TEACHERS: WORK DURING VACATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 15.—German school teachers have been ordered by the minister of education to pitch in and help Germany's war effort when they take their vacations this summer. All of them will work in field, farm, or factory at least four of the seven weeks in their vacation.

Berlin's school teachers, 54 years old on the average, will take a variety of jobs. Many will make hay in the eastern areas. Others will watch over kindergartens.

Women school teachers will take the places of women workers on vacation from munitions factories.

ORDER BY BRITAIN EXPECTED TO CUT EGG PRODUCTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 15.—Slaughter of hens by the millions thruout the country is expected as a result of a new order by the food ministry. It requires all persons who keep more than 12 hens but fewer than 50 on an acre or less to sell their eggs exclusively thru government controled packing stations.

Many owners of small flocks, it is declared, will slaughter the fowls to reduce the number to 12, thus depriving Britain of millions of eggs yearly. At the same time, the market may be glutted with dead birds.

ENGLISH LABOR CHARGED WITH SHIRKING DUTY

Claim Arms Output Only at Half Pace.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 15.—Prime Minister Churchill's explanation that lack of equipment and transport made it impossible to hold Greece and Crete has resulted in a general increased demand that production in British factories be speeded up.

Ernest Bevin, Minister of Labor.

Capt. J. Henderson Stewart, Liberal National member of parliament, today questioned Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin's defense of the part labor is taking in the war.

"Today, when the flower of our land is being mowed down thru lack of arms to defend themselves," he said, "arms factories at home are the frequent scenes of deliberate slacking, deliberate idleness and shameless agitation for higher and still higher wages for the same work done."

Predict Labor Scandal.

Stewart charged that "on the evidence already available I am satisfied that a labor scandal of the first magnitude and horror now is being enacted, which, unless it is stamped out, might have the gravest result in the course of our struggle."

Stewart complained that "employers' hands are chained behind their backs," and that "man for man, machine for machine, working men are not turning out more than 50 per cent of what they did in the last war."

Admitting "disappointment" in the building trade, Bevin today made another appeal to labor. "Don't have it on your conscience that if an invasion takes place one air field was not ready because you did not play the game in building it," he pleaded.

Asks Doubled Efforts.

Lord Southwood, newspaper proprietor and publisher among whose properties is the mouthpiece of the Labor party, the Daily Herald, joined the chorus of those asking that labor redouble its efforts to increase the munitions output of the nation.

"Your work is going to make a world of difference to the British fighting forces," he said. "Up to now they have had to fight the Nazis with inadequate armament. Think of this—a minute saved on your job means lives saved on theirs. Who knows, it may be the lives of your own kith and kin."

Unions to Hold Meetings.

Four trade unions—the Amalgamated Engineering, National Union of General and Municipal Workers, National Federation of Building Trades Operatives, and National Foremen's association—will hold a conference this week. Leaders already are protesting about attempts being made to blame defects in production on the men and women in the factories. Resolutions are being submitted calling for improvements in workmen's compensation.

Agitators and communists blamed for Liverpool and Manchester dock troubles are said to have been weeded out and the difficulties resulting from the lockout last week of some hundred dockers from Manchester wharves settled.

Some papers, however, recommend that if there is a recurrence the ports be declared military zones and the dockers be enlisted as a pioneer [labor] corps in the army.

Again Seek Cabinet Change.

There are renewed demands that something be done about Britain's conduct of the war and that the "lesson of Crete" not be wasted. The criticisms, altho not hitting Churchill directly, embrace practically every departmental head in the government. The powerful Coöperative Weekly declared more cabinet changes are in order and said the prime minister is considering beginning with the ministry of information. Its chief, Alfred Duff Cooper, is said to be very dissatisfied with the restrictions imposed upon him by the war service departments regarding the giving out of information.

Despite Churchill's statement pointing out the difficulties in the way of assembling an imperial conference of dominion prime ministers here, both members of parliament and the press express the hope that it can be done immediately. Attention is called to the urgency for setting up an imperial war cabinet in which the dominions would participate in framing general war policies as well as major strategy.

Australia Not Satisfied.

The political commentator Hannen Swaffer brought up other criticisms in today's weekly, The People. He wrote:

"Again, despite Winston's [Churchill's] verbal victory in commons over his very frank critics of the Greek adventure, Australia is by no means satisfied."

Swaffer protested "total war to us still mean photographing and publishing pictures of complacent ministers who achieve oratorical triumphs in parliament." He contrasted this with the ruthless total war methods of Germany. "We see profiteering going on in food, and innumerable workers employed on part time or else have to pretend they are working so as to go on drawing their salaries," he charged and urged that Britain hasten to adopt "total war methods."

"Philosopher," writing in The People, wondered if British and American investments in Rumanian and Iraqi oil fields might not be responsible for failure of secret service sabotage to prevent supplies being used by the Germans.

"War Office Nonsense."

Maj. Gen. Frederick Maurice, president of the British Legion, writing in the Sunday Dispatch, described as "war office nonsense" its failure to give out a frank statement on British casualties. He declared that attempts of the war office to conceal from the enemy details of British organizations are "stupidly overdone," saying that "we might have been told weeks ago the names of the regiments which fought in Greece for the Germans knew them from the prisoners they took."

The concealment, he insisted, injured British prestige as well as gave credence to German propaganda that the British ask others to fight their battles.

Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express asserted that the "air force not only flies in the clouds but some of its higherups seem to live there" in demanding to know why the air ministry is keeping secret the name of the pilot of the Catalina flying boat [an American make] who located the German battleship Bismarck and the others who crippled the ship with torpedoes so the British navy could get in for the kill.

British Advance on Key Cities in Syria

With the capture of Sidon yesterday, the British-Free French forces invading Syria were nearing Beirut and Damascus. Air attacks in the Mediterranean also were reported by both sides yesterday.

ITALIANS ATTACK ALEXANDRIA; RAF POUNDS BENGAZI

Aerial Warfare at New Peak of Fury.

ROME, June 15 (AP).—Sharply intensified air warfare in the Eastern Mediterranean was reported by the Italian high command today with accounts of new axis assaults upon Britain's Alexandria naval base and British held Tobruk in Libya and British raids on German and Italian positions in North Africa and the Dodecanese.

Italian planes alone raided Alexandria, target of destructive axis assaults last week, on Friday night but failed to give the results of this latest foray.

At Tobruk, German and Italian airmen started large fires in repeated bombardments of British fortifications. Destruction of two British Hurricane fighters [the Germans said four] was claimed in clashes over that stronghold, 80 miles from the Egyptian border.

Three more British planes were shot out of RAF formations attacking Bengazi, major axis held port in Libya, and a submarine downed a British Sunderland flying boat in the Mediterranean.

Other Attacks Acknowledged.

Additional British raids were acknowledged on other points in eastern Libya and on the Island of Rhodes, in the Dodecanese.

A special Italian communique charged that British airmen helping defend Tobruk had used dumdum bullets and added: "It is understood that in case another such instance is proved our reprisal will be immediate and doubled."

A bullet which struck on Italian artilleryman "shattered and produced an enormous gaping wound in the fleshy part of the leg" and "deformed cartridges were found on a captured English soldier," the communique said.

"It has been confirmed," it added, "that the use of dumdum bullets was not an isolated case."

[An international declaration made at the second Hague conference on July 29, 1899, outlawed the use of dumdum bullets.]

British Tell of Raids.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 15 (AP).—RAF bombers heavily pounded Bengazi and other axis bases along the Libyan coast in a series of destructive night and day raids since Friday, the British middle east air command announced today. At Bengazi night raiders started a number of fires among harbor works. Additional assaults were made upon Benina, Derna, and El Gazala.

Between El Gazala and Fort Capuzzo, on the Libyan-Egyptian border, 19 axis motor transport vehicles were destroyed and three armored fighting vehicles damaged in machine gun attacks.

Uruguay Seeks American Declaration of Solidarity

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, June 15 (AP).—Foreign Minister Alberto Guani declared today that Uruguay has consulted diplomats from all American nations on the possibility of making a declaration of intercontinental solidarity. Paul le Gentilhomme, commander of allied forces in British and French Somaliland before the fall of France and now serving with the "Free French" forces in Syria, has been wounded by a bomb dropped by a plane bearing the tricolor, "Free French" headquarters said today. Gen. le Gentilhomme's arm was broken. He joined the De Gaullists last October. The Vichy government then deprived him of his citizenship.

50TH DESTROYER LOST BY BRITAIN; VICTIM OF MINE

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—The admiralty tonight announced the destruction of its 50th destroyer of the war, the new 1,690 ton Jersey while in command of Lieutenant Commander A. F. Burnell-Nugent, who thus lost his third warship. The Jersey, of the Javelin class and built in 1939, went down when hit by a mine, the admiralty said, without disclosing the location of the action or the number of casualties. Its normal complement was 183 men.

Burnell-Nugent first lost the destroyer Havant, which was bombed and sunk in the Dunkirk evacuation. His next ship was the Hostile, which played a great rôle in the fighting at Narvik, Norway, and which later was sunk by a mine. Burnell-Nugent won the distinguished service cross in December, 1939, for "successful actions against an enemy submarine" while he was in command of the destroyer Walpole.

The admiralty's announcement was its second listing the Jersey as a war casualty. On Dec. 7, 1939, she was reported damaged by a submarine torpedo, which killed 10 men and injured 12. The Jersey was of a class whose ships carry six 4.7 inch guns and 10 21 inch torpedo tubes. She was listed as a 36 knot destroyer.

Gunshot Wound Fatal to Despondent Man, 85

CROATIA SIGNS PACT; BECOMES MEMBER OF AXIS

Pledges Full Adherence to 'New Order.'

VENICE, Italy, June 15 (AP).—Croatia, the new state carved from part of vanquished Jugo-Slavia, today joined the ranks of secondary members of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis.

Dr. Ante Pavelich.

Dr. Ante Pavelich, Poglavnik [leader] of Croatian state, put his signature at a ceremony here to a protocol giving his country the right to be present at any tripartite discussions affecting Croatia.

The action put Croatia in a class with Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Slovakia, whose envoys also signed the document. Signing for the three major members were the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano; the Nazi foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, and the Japanese ambassador to Italy, Zembei Horikiri.

Replying to Count Ciano's formal welcome into the alliance, Pavelich said:

"Croatia gives its full adherence to the principles and reasons which inspire the rulers of Italy, Germany, and Japan in constituting a united front for creation of a new order in the European and Asiatic worlds."

Ciano spoke flatteringly of the faith the older partners had in Croatia and reiterated the Italian-German-Japanese aim of permanent coöperation in a new world order.

The presence of the diplomats gave Venice a festival air. For a few hours boatmen and Venetians forgot the war's hardships and the absence of tourists to swarm thru the canals.

AIR MAIL CUTS 3 DAYS OFF TIME TO WEST COAST

Hours Saved to Capital and New York.

The use of airmail between Chicago and the west coast speeds up arrival of letters by sometimes as much as three days. Altho the time saved by airmail to points not so far distant is relatively less, the thoughtful use of airmail schedules to New York and Washington, D. C., can save as much as a full business day.

4 Letters a Day.

During the first week four letters a day were mailed to each of the three cities. One regular first class letter and one airmail letter were posted in the Tribune Tower letter drop between 9 and 9:30 a. m., and a similar pair of letters was posted at the close of the business day. During the second week, letters were mailed in the same manner from each of the three cities to Chicago.

First class mail posted in letter boxes of Chicago's central business district before 10 a. m. is delivered in Los Angeles on the afternoon of the second day. If posted after 10 a. m., however, as the bulk of business mail is, it will not be delivered in Los Angeles until the early morning delivery of the third day.

More Leeway on Airmail.

Airmail posted before 10:30 a. m. will reach Los Angeles in the early morning delivery of the following day, and even if posted as late as 7 p. m., it will be in the next day's midmorning delivery.

Thus a first class letter mailed after 10 a. m. on Thursday would not reach the addressee by regular delivery until Monday morning, while an airmail letter would be delivered Friday morning, or three days earlier.

A three cent stamp will buy 25 hour service between Chicago and Washington if the letter is posted by 1:20 p. m. Airmail saves only two and a half hours, since first class letters arrive in Washington's midmorning delivery and airmail letters in the early morning.

Advantage in Air Mail.

First class mail posted after 2:30 p. m., however, will not arrive until the morning of the second day, while an air mail letter posted at any time before 8 p. m. will be delivered the following morning. Use of air mail in late afternoon, therefore, results in deliveries 24 hours earlier.

Similarly, there is 24 hour service on first class mail to New York if it is posted before noon. Again the use of air mail results in a saving of two or two and a half hours—the difference between early morning and midmorning deliveries.

First class mail posted after 2:30 o'clock, however, will not be delivered in New York until the second day, while air mail posted at any time up to 7 p. m. will be in New York's early delivery next morning.

Allow for Pickups.

The average elapsed time from the hour the letter was posted until it was delivered to the addressee is given in the table that follows. Letters were posted in the morning between 9 and 9:30 o'clock and in the afternoon between 5 and 5:45 p. m.

Special pickups by The Tribune mail room or addressees in other cities were taken into account, and the time of receipt figured as that of the next regular delivery. Letters delayed by lying in the mails over weekends or holidays were not used in computing the averages.

WASHINGTON TO CHICAGO.
Posted a. m.	28 h.	22 h. 30 m.
Posted p. m.	39 h.	17 h.

Of the letters mailed to Chicago from Los Angeles, those which came by air averaged 21 hours 30 minutes for those posted in the morning and 22 hours 15 minutes for those posted in the evening. It was impossible to strike an average for the first class letters because those posted as early as Tuesday, the second day of the test, lay in the mails over the Friday holiday, Memorial day.

Effect of Legal Holiday.

As an illustration of how a legal holiday during the week affects long distance mail, letters posted in Los Angeles at 10:15 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Tuesday were not received until 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

Comparisons of this mail test and a similar one conducted two years ago indicate that first class mail both from and to Washington and air mail from Washington is now slower by one delivery.

First Assistant Postmaster Gustave Wenzel said there has been no change in the schedules of planes or trains, and believed the apparent delays resulted from bad connections rather than a general slowing down owing to heavier mail loads occasioned by increased activity in the national capital.

Charges Beating

GRACE FORSYTHE.

New York, June 15 [N. Y. News].—Exhibiting pictures of a puffed lip and other abrasions and contusions, Grace Forsythe, former showgirl, today revealed she is suing Arthur Jarwitz, manager of a midtown restaurant, for $10,000. She charges he beat her up on Jan. 18.

The complaint filed in Supreme court by her attorney, Emanuel B. Cohen, says she was in the safe when Jarwitz "maliciously and violently assaulted, struck, and beat the plaintiff, making her sick, sore, lame, disabled, and otherwise injured."

Grace was married to Frank Rizzuto, wealthy Omaha, Neb. contractor, on May 26, 1939 and fled from him 21 days later. In his divorce suit Rizzuto called her a "dolly bride—a darling little thing but impractical."

WITNESS FACES QUIZ ON SHIFT OF GOON TESTIMONY

Case Against Union Agent Upset by Change.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

State's Attorney Courtney said yesterday he intends to find out why Edward Brown, colored, 4711 St. Lawrence avenue, a garage worker, changed his testimony to save William Bibby, union business agent, from conviction as a labor goon. The prosecutor said Brown's change of testimony was responsible for a jury disagreement last Friday when Bibby was tried in the Felony court before Judge Jay A. Schiller.

Courtney said Bibby will be tried again July 8, and meanwhile an investigation of Brown will be under way. Brown either was bribed or threatened, Courtney said, because his first story was that he saw Bibby beat Furlin Thomas, 4919 Ravenswood avenue, a fellow garage employé. In court, however, he said he saw no blows struck.

Victim Weighs 140 Pounds.

Thomas, who weighs 140 pounds, said he was attacked by Bibby, who is 6 feet tall and weighs 225 pounds, when he insisted on knowing what Bibby did with the union dues he collected. Thomas said he told Bibby he hesitated about paying dues because the union did nothing for him and he wanted to know whether the $2 a month he paid actually went to the union.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of Courtney's staff took charge of the case because of Bibby's previous record, Courtney declared. Bibby was fined several years ago for slugging a florist who wouldn't obey orders issued by union teamsters. He also was questioned about the goon murder of Marinus Hvid, a garage owner who was killed with a baseball bat after Bibby had called a strike against Hvid's garage.

"Brown told Capt. Gilbert he saw the attack on Thomas," Courtney said. "He appeared ready and willing to so testify in court. Then Bibby jumped his bail and didn't appear in court for trial—an old trick to gain time.

Then Witness Disappears.

"Later he surrendered and appeared before Judge Schiller, and we learned that Brown, our witness, had disappeared. We had to have the case continued. When Brown returned he said he had been out of town. He denied that any one had influenced him to go away.

"Before the trial we learned that Brown had changed his story. We asked the court to call him as a witness anyway. He had not testified under oath to the first story, so he couldn't be prosecuted for perjury because of the story he finally told, which was that he merely saw Thomas fall against a car.

"Bibby's attorney offered to have Bibby plead guilty if the state would recommend a $10 fine. We rejected this offer. We wanted the facts given a jury and we still do. We intend to keep Brown under surveillance and to investigate his conduct thoroly. If we are able to prove that he was approached by Bibby or any one in Bibby's interest, there will be grand jury action."

Her picture was selected by the photograph editors of Chicago newspapers from the pictures of 12 contestants for queen.

PAT HARRISON ENTERS HOSPITAL FOR OPERATION

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—Senator Pat Harrison was taken to Emergency hospital tonight to undergo a major operation tomorrow. Physicians said the 59 year old Mississippi Democrat was suffering from an intestinal obstruction.

Harrison, president pro tempore of the senate and chairman of its finance committee, has been in poor health for about two years. He suffered a severe attack of influenza in 1939. Upon his recovery he shouldered heavy responsibility in connection with tax legislation and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program.

RAIN TO FIZZLE, SAYS MR. GUMPF THRU A DRIZZLE

Thru yesterday's drizzle, Forecaster R. E. Gumpf detected a sign of hope for better weather starting today. He said there will be some cloudiness today, with a probable clearing up of the skies by evening. Temperatures are likely to rise slightly—possibly to 65 degrees, he said. The highest temperature yesterday was 59 at 6 p. m. Yesterday was the seventh consecutive rainy day in Chicago, bringing the month's rainfall total to 3.18 inches. The normal precipitation since June 1 is 1.80 inches.

DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUND.

Edward Scott, 18 years old, a Negro, 5912 State street, died yesterday in Provident hospital of a gunshot wound which police said was inflicted during a dispute with Lewis Murray, 47, also colored, in the latter's poolroom at 5935 State street, earlier in the day.

ALIENS IN U. S. FORM NEW GROUP TO OPPOSE PEACE

'Victory First' Keynote of Initial Meeting.

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—An organization designed to mobilize world public opinion against the axis powers was formed today by representatives of 16 countries.

Hugh Moore, Easton, Pa., manufacturer, was named chairman of an organization committee of 15 persons from various nations and authorized to call a future conference. Moore is chairman of the national executive group of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

He said the new organization probably would be known as the Free World association or the International Union of Free People, and would establish headquarters in New York. He said it would serve as a central clearing house to coördinate organizations in various countries to fight the Nazi ideology.

Victory Before Peace.

Moore said a number of resolutions were adopted, the sense of which was that the present was no time to talk peace.

"We were all agreed that there must be victory before peace," he said at a press conference. "Hitler must be destroyed first. There was absolutely no talk of appeasement."

Today's meeting, termed a conference for Democratic victory, and sponsored by the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, was attended by former cabinet members of half a dozen countries, some of which have been conquered by Germany.

These included Halvdan Koht, former foreign minister of Norway; Julius Deutsch, former Austrian minister of interior; Pierre Cot, former French minister of commerce, industry, and air; Alvarez del Vayo, former Spanish minister and former Spanish ambassador to Mexico; Victor Bodson, minister of justice of Luxemburg, and Carl J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian chamber of deputies and president of the league of nations.

Tell of Resistance.

Representatives of German occupied countries told the conference that Hitler's régime was encountering constant resistance and reported several instances of sabotage. The conference agreed that one of its functions would be to encourage this resistance.

Koht said that 98 per cent of the residents of Norway were resisting German "tyranny."

BLAST KILLS 1, INJURES 8.

Kansas City, Kas., June 15 (AP).—An explosion at the pump house of the Fairfax drainage district killed one man today and injured eight others. FBI agents were investigating.

RECALLS LA FOLLETTE WAS REVILED BEFORE WAR, HAILED AFTER

Madison, Wis., June 15 [Special].—Standing at the grave of the late Robert M. La Follette Sr., Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho] today hailed the late Wisconsin senator's fight against America's participation in the European war in 1917 as "an inspiration to those now opposed to plunging the United States again into Europe's cesspool of war."

Senator Clark spoke at the 16th annual La Follette memorial services before a crowd of about 800. He recalled the "solemn promises" of candidates for high public office in 1916, how within five months those promises were broken, and how "countless millions of dollars were poured into the rivers of propaganda."

Then he told how "the hatred of a country gripped by war hysteria crashed down" upon the elder Bob La Follette because he dared to keep his pledge to resist this country's entry in the war.

Clark recalled how La Follette was burned in effigy; how "disorderly, howling massmeetings demanded that he be expelled from the senate, and how he was charged with giving aid and comfort to Germany." After the "four year war of human butchery" ended, Clark continued, La Follette was accorded "the complete respect of those who had reviled him a few years before."

SUMMER SINGS OPEN IN WOODS DESPITE DRIZZLE

The fourth annual community sing in the forest preserves opened yesterday, with sizable audiences attending in spite of a drizzle. The sing, which will continue Sundays during summer, is sponsored jointly by THE TRIBUNE and the forest preserve district.

The Aeolian Choral association, directed by Stephen T. Pepich, presented a varied program in Thatcher woods. One of the hits was the singing of "The Last Rose of Summer" by Thelma Matthei. Peter J. Peel, a member of the Chicago Recreation commission, spoke in praise of the musical series.

The Dan Ryan woods recital was given by the Metropolitan Church choir, directed by T. Wesley Jones, well known colored leader. The choir sang effectively favorite Negro spirituals and the folksongs of Stephen Foster.

The sing in Caldwell woods by the Century Male chorus was canceled because of the weather.

LACK VETERANS TO RUSH TRAINING OF DRAFT ARMY

Recruits Arriving Too Fast to Be Absorbed.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Manchester, Tenn., June 15.—The big problem confronting the capable ones among our military leaders, as evidenced here in the maneuvers, is the time it takes to produce an army from the avalanche of green material that descended on the regular military establishment when the draft went into effect.

Our handful of regular officers and men were—man for man—the equal of, if not better than any soldiers in the world.

It took four years at West Point or many years of meritorious service in the ranks to produce a second lieutenant. A soldier was considered a recruit until he had finished three years of enlistment.

Help from Old Timers.

Yet the biggest factor we had in perfecting our few regular troops was found in the help given by fellow officers or men to the new arrivals.

If a fresh lieutenant committed an error, aid was immediately at hand from those around him with longer service. If a recruit was in trouble, he was carried along by his veteran buddies.

It was the same principle the Germans work so efficiently in this war. They have so many trained troops that new material can be thrown in without upsetting the efficiency of the whole to any appreciable extent.

In our present situation, our qualified military men are bogged down numerically. It is like trying to organize a great industrial plant. It takes much time to, equip, disseminate, weed out, and get men trained and properly placed before organization can go into production.

Shortage of War Tools.

Here there is a shortage of equipment in practically all lines, with the shortage acute in weapons and transportation vehicles. The officers know it, but do not advertise the fact for fear of the effect it might have on public and military morale.

Of the 77,000 troops here, nearly all the men are new. Only about 5 per cent of the officers are members of the old regular army who know their business. The veterans are bogged down for lack of competent assistance. The old two fisted file closing noncommissioned officers are no more. Most of these have been promoted and are trying, themselves, to learn new jobs.

A large number of the senior officers have been in civil life since 1919, with only a few days of military work to aid their political pull in holding their commissions. Most of those who were capable in the last war have put on too much weight and age to have any place in active military life now.

Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear said in his press conference this week that an army in the field is definitely a young man's game, from the generals down. Even some of the young and physically fit officers have no conception of army life in field or in war.

Viewed as Tough Life.

One lieutenant was seen coming into camp after 36 hours in the field. Of those 36 hours, several were spent sitting around. The weather was perfect, yet this young officer had a growth of beard, his shirt was open, his clothes were dirty, and his whole attitude indicated that he had convinced himself that he had experienced a tough job.

A military observer in Holland, during the invasion, stated that one of the impressive things about German soldiers seen on the streets of Rotterdam after 48 hours of continual fighting was the fact that all faces were shaved and clothes brushed.

An army to win today must be well trained, disciplined and modernly equipped. Our American boys have ability. They are not trained or properly equipped.

Crimes by British Children Under 14 Show a Big Gain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 15.—A 41 per cent increase in the number of children less than 14 years old found guilty of indictable offenses during the first year of the war was disclosed today. A circular issued by the home office and the board of education said the offenses chiefly were stealing and looting. Opportunities for theft as a result of bombings were blamed.

Fleet of Jap Warships Reported Off East China

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—A Reuters, British news agency, dispatch from Chungking today said a fleet of Japanese warships, including cruisers and an aircraft carrier, had been reported concentrated off the Chekiang province coast of eastern China, with some units already moving southward.

U. S. TAKES OVER SIX DANISH SHIPS UNDER NEW LAW

It's First Step Toward Acquiring of 84.

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—The Maritime commission announced today that six Danish ships would be placed in active service of the United States merchant fleet tomorrow. They are among 84 foreign vessels tied up in American waters which were taken into protective custody some time ago.

The six vessels, which will become the property of the commission, are the motorship Nora and the steamships Marna and Jonna, tied up in New York; the steamships Rita Maersk and Herta Maersk, in Boston, Mass., and the steamship Jutta, in Portland, Me. All are freighters.

The commission said that notices would be posted on each vessel at 9 a. m., informing the owners that the commission had taken title. The names of the owners were not announced pending completion of negotiations for payment of compensation.

Move to Come.

The commission said it planned to take over the remainder of the idle foreign ships, which include 28 Italian ones and two German ones, as fast as possible. The six Danish ships were selected as the first to go into active service, an official said, because they were in condition and "we had to start somewhere."

Officials were noncommital as to whether any additional ships would be released to Britain as a result of return of the foreign ships to active service.

Legislation authorizing the government to requisition the ships and put them into operation was enacted by congress two weeks ago. It requires that "just compensation" be given the owners.

The gross tonnage and speed of the six Danish vessels: Nora, 2,937, 14 knots; Marna, 1,700, 12½ knots; Jonna, 1,517, 12½ knots; Rita Maersk, 1,889, 11 knots; Herta Maersk, 1,890, 11½ knots; Jutta, 1,549, 12 knots.

Army Service Possible.

The use to which they will be put was not announced, but the commission said it was possible that one or more would be operated in the service of the army. It was not likely, the commission added, that any of the six would be used in trans-Atlantic service.

The commission expressed hope that some members of the Danish crews would be retained but this, it said, would depend "in a degree on the wishes of the Danes themselves and upon what services the ships may enter."

FATHERS VISIT ILLINOIS BOYS AT TRAINING CAMP

They Hope None Will Be Sent Away to War.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Forrest, Tenn., June 15.—More than five hundred Illinois fathers, many of them war veterans and nearly all opposed to their sons going abroad to fight, visited Camp Forrest today. The Fathers' day delegation to the 33d division training ground was, however, only a fraction of the size of the crowd which came here on Mother's day.

The difference was that the camp authorities made no special effort to bring fathers here. There was no order setting aside the day in their honor; there was no reception committee to meet them, and no events were arranged. Some fathers said they were glad to visit their sons informally, but others felt they had been slighted.

Many of the men in training said they had planned to invite their fathers but did not do so because there was no official designation of the day.

The Commandant's Attitude.

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commanding the 33d division, said he believed the fathers would enjoy the day more by "just visiting and not having to attend functions."

Gen. Lawton had his Father's day on his post, his, Samuel Jr., being a lieutenant in the 122d field artillery. The general sported a new pair of slippers.

Col. Jacob Arvey, former Chicago alderman, also didn't have to travel to observe the day. His son, Edwin, a military police sergeant, gave him two sets of colonel's leaves.

But for the five hundred fathers in civilian clothes, the day was an important occasion. They wandered about, visiting barracks, examining equipment, meeting their sons' superior officers, digging in at the mess.

Danville Father's Viewpoint.

Irven Lawson of Danville, Ill., came to see his three sons, Irven Jr., Harold, and Jack, who are in the 130th infantry.

"They are fine boys," he said, "and this year's training is doing them a lot of good. But I hope it's only for a year. I don't want them to go across the ocean to fight in a war that doesn't concern them."

Otis Reed was another in the Danville delegation. His boys, Curtis and Forest, also are in the 130th infantry.

"I'm 65 years old," Reed said, "so I was just in between the Spanish American and the world wars and wasn't in either. This camp is a great thing for my sons. But I hope and pray we don't go to war. Maybe if I and others keep on doing that long enough, the people who are trying to shove us into war will see the handwriting on the wall and call off their efforts."

"A Swell Camp."

Fire Captain Edward Healey, who lives at 4035 Cullerton avenue, Chicago, spent his time with Edward Jr., who is in Company B of the 108th engineers.

"This is a swell camp," Capt. Healey said, "and I'm happy my boy is here. Training conditions are a lot better than when I was at Camp Jackson in South Carolina in the last war."

Leo J. Fletcher of 408 South Hamlin avenue, Chicago, told of his service with the 107th engineers, 32d division, in France. He is now unemployed.

"It was no picnic," he remarked to his son, Corporal Kenneth Fletcher of the 132d.

Army's 'Singing Engineers' Full of Fun, Work, and 'Snap'

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Bragg, N. C., June 15.—We were told to listen closely. The army car was driving out toward the barracks of the 41st combat engineers. It was after 4:30 p. m., officially the end of the soldier's day.

Faintly at first came the singing, then stronger, the full throated thrill of hundreds of lusty male voices, raised in a combination chant and song. The 41st "singing" engineers were coming back to barracks.

Every day, morning and evening, the 41st, only Negro regiment of combat engineers formed since the world war, sings its way to and from work. They are full of music and they are bears for work.

Around Fort Bragg these soldiers, with white officers, have the reputation of being the snappiest as well as the most military outfit. Every officer and every non-commissioned officer carries a swagger stick, this being the only group of non-coms given such permission. In almost every rookie's locker lies his own homemade stick, waiting for use when he gets a promotion.

Follow Colonel's Lead.

All of this verve is due, according to Col. Malcolm Cox, public relations officer, to the regimental commander, Col. John E. Wood. A dapper little regular army man, his face creased and burned by wind and sun, Johnny Wood, as his colleagues call him, never is without his own swagger stick.

Col. Wood's success with the troops, most of whom had been field hands in Louisiana, Georgia, and North Carolina, can be called, say his associates, a matter of "instinct." He has lived with and understands the Negro, they say, and add that for 150 years Johnny Wood's family owned more slaves than there are soldiers in his regiment.

Singing is not their only extra-curricular accomplishment. The men themselves have developed a drum and bugle corps, blatant, tuneful, and with tricky stick work. And they have a first rate regimental band which can turn out some of the hottest swing music this side of Chicago's 35th street.

Build Own Theater.

In its off moments, the 41st has constructed a rustic outdoor theater [distinct from the four built by the camp for the soldiers]. Situated on the slope of a wooded ravine, it included log cabin boxes for the commanding general and other distinguished guests.

Out on the field the men keep their work up to the same caliber. Particularly impressive is a job of construction they are doing at the fresh water swimming pool which will be used by Negro troops.

The sun was really hot, but the 41st stretched the biggest pontoon bridge the army has, capable of taking a 25 ton tank, as if it were a fall day. Every time one of the baritones, a first sergeant, sang out, the men came down a steep slope double time carrying the massive beams which were dropped into position on the pontoons.

WAR DEPT. RECORDS SHOW BEHAVIOR OF ARMY HAS IMPROVED

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—The army's behavior has improved materially as its size has increased, officials reported today on the strength of a new war department study of enlisted men's records.

A comparison of the last half of 1940 with averages for the five years preceding showed that, on a percentage basis:

Fewer than half as many men deserted; an even smaller number were forced out of the army on being convicted of civil offenses, and only a third as many were discharged by order of a court martial.

The statistical study was disclosed as "evidence of the high type of men who have entered the service in the last two years."

By contrast the cases of men who admitted previous desertions from the military service mounted heavily. The selective service registration was given as the principal explanation. This brought back to the army scores of men who had "gone over the hill."

63 DRAFTEES WIN DEFERMENT ON FINAL APPEALS

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—A majority of a mounting number of selective service registrants who have taken appeals to President Roosevelt have been upheld and placed in deferred classes.

A compilation by selective service headquarters today showed that of 107 cases appealed to the chief executive, 63 were decided in favor of men who had refused to accept decisions of local appeals boards. In reporting the figures, officials said that such appeals were encouraged rather than discouraged and carried no stigma on the patriotism or a man who objected to being made subject to immediate military service.

Rules were revised recently to authorize state selective service directors or Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, acting national director, to initiate appeals. Elaborate machinery has been set up with the aim of assuring prompt justice.

Of the 63 registrants who won favorable decisions, 10 were placed in class 2, being deferred because of their occupations, and 53 in deferred class 3 because of dependents.

HEAR HITLER MAY CALL ALL EUROPE TO CONFERENCE

Aim Believed to Establish a "New Order."

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—The status of German-soviet Russian relations was still in the forefront of diplomatic conjecture tonight but there was an inclination in some quarters to regard reports of German troop movements as "obviously" Nazi inspired—a screen for a surprise move, probably against Britain.

A Reuters [British] news agency dispatch tonight from Ankara, Turkey, said German sources there were circulating rumors that Adolf Hitler soon would call a European conference, including representatives of axis dominated countries, as well as soviet Russia and Japan.

The reported aim was said to be the establishment of agreeable social, political, and economic arrangements for a "new order" in Europe.

Perhaps a Reichstag Speech.

Reuters also quoted the Swiss newspaper Basler Nachrichten as saying Hitler would address the reichstag early this week.

[An unconfirmed report that soviet Russia has declared general mobilization and canceled all army leaves was related tonight by the National Broadcasting company's correspondent in Turkey, during his broadcast from Ankara.]

The most authoritative report of German troop movements, that is, concentrations in eastern and northeastern Germany facing Russia, which was circulated by Russia's official news agency, Tass, would represent propaganda collaboration between Moscow and Berlin, some British quarters reasoned.

"We've conjectured upon every possible phase of German-Russian relations," one informant said. "We think Hitler is up to something and we think it concerns Russia, but how he'll move, and when, is anybody's guess."

Cripps Unlikely to Return.

Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador home from soviet Russia, was reported today unlikely to return to his post at Moscow. He returned last week from a year of work in the soviet capital and was said to have expressed a desire to resume his seat in commons unless Prime Minister Churchill asked him urgently to return to Moscow.

The ambassador was reported to have said that he found it difficult to establish regular contact with members of the soviet government and thus had been unable to carry out his work satisfactorily.

Envoy Confers in Turkey.

ANKARA, Turkey, June 15 (AP).—British Ambassador Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen conferred with Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu today and informed quarters believed they discussed the situation existing between Germany and soviet Russia.

President Ismet Inonu conferred on Friday with the army general staff, presumably about the same situation and the developments in Syria.

The reported withdrawal of German troops from Bulgaria gave weight to rumors concerning strained relations between Germany and the soviet, and the Ankara radio asserted "the Russians seem nervous."

"Rumanian newspapers are publishing significant articles since Premier Ion Antonescu returned from Munich [where he conferred with Hitler and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop], saying Rumania is ready to do her duty and realize her rights," the radio added.

"Rights" Not Defined.

It was noted that Rumania's "rights" were not defined in the Rumanian press, but that it was assumed the papers were referring to Bessarabia, which the Red army occupied a year ago.

A Vichy diplomat to a Balkan country, who came here on Saturday to attend the funeral of Jules Henry, French ambassador to Turkey, said he had definite information that German troops had been largely withdrawn from Bulgaria, Czecho-Slovakia, and Greece and that most of them are now in Rumania, where they are facing the Red army.

Launch Boat from Garage

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Costs About $300

Eight months ago Russell Syverson, 23 years old, a grocery clerk, and Arthur Gustafson, 21, an electrician, decided to build a boat. The project got started at the rear of Arthur's home, 7121 Greenwood avenue.

They had $300, a knack with tools, and enough interest in the boat to spend all of their spare time on it. Yesterday they finished, and here's what they've got:

The Winsome, an 18 foot cabin cruiser with room for six passengers and bunks for two; it's powered with an automobile engine and is expected to turn up 18 miles on hour; the interior is shipshape, has an icebox, a stove, and a radio. And not only that—it floats, they announced after a trial launching.

GERMANS SHOW IMPATIENCE WITH VICHY INDECISION

Press for Firm Stand Against Britain.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 15.—The Vichy government apparently is not having any more success pleasing the Germans than pleasing Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador, as well as the Churchill government of the British empire.

This impression arises from the way the National Zeitung of Essen—often given credit for voicing the views of high personages in the German government—today reported the news from Syria.

Digs Up 1925 Quarrel.

This influential journal after giving very little information on the present Syrian situation went back to the events of 1925 when, it charged, "the British attacked their ally France from behind by making use of the racial and religious animosities in this mandated territory because the British wanted to have this territory themselves. Any Frenchman knows this, no matter how short his memory."

Having recalled France's difficulties in this Druse uprising—the German version of which, it is claimed, agrees substantially with that of all French officers in the Levant [near east]—the National Zeitung drew this conclusion:

"It is therefore more astonishing that even now the French government repeatedly should assure the American ambassador—who lately has been again visiting [Marshal] Petain and [Admiral] Darlan—that the farthest thing from their intention is a combat with Britain or in any way making common cause with the axis powers."

Indignant with French.

This refusal by Chief of State Petain and Vice Premier Darlan to come out squarely against the ally who is attacking their soldiers in the near east roused the National Zeitung to voice indignation.

"How long will the French government, for fear of its so-called public opinion, keep up this impossible comedy of trying to sit down between two chairs? People in Vichy know very well that the British prepared thoroly their attack on Syria for months. We have the impression that the Vichy government no longer has any illusion over the outcome of the military operations in its Levant mandated states."

Tribune Exhibit of News Pictures Seen by 2,000

More than 2,000 persons, many from distant parts of the United States, saw the outstanding photographs taken by Chicago Tribune news cameramen during the seven days they were on exhibition at the Sherman hotel. The exhibit of 280 pictures closed last night. The pictures covered the entire field of news photography. The collection has been shown in several Chicagoland cities and in the Art institute.

BRITISH FLYERS IN CITY ON WAY TO PILOT SCHOOL

Forty-six British flyers, members of the royal air force, enjoyed ice cream sodas in Chicago yesterday as they stopped between trains on their way to Tulsa, Okla., for training with the United States army air corps. The Michigan Central railroad coach, which brought them from Toronto, Ont., was decorated with RAF insignia, chalk drawings of the American flag and the Union Jack, and "Hello, U. S. A." greetings. Their officers refused to permit the pilots to mingle with the crowd in the Illinois Central station.

30,000 RALLY IN A SALUTE TO AMERICANISM

Hear Mayor, Gov. Green, and Father Flanagan.

More than 30,000 persons defied yesterday afternoon's drizzling rainfall to gather in Soldiers' field to participate in a labor sponsored demonstration of faith in Americanism. Labor leaders, churchmen, and high state and city officials paid spirited tribute to the American way of life.

Despite the inclement weather, the occasion was made colorful by a parade featuring 4,000 ROTC cadets. Martial music blared from the instruments of 50 drum and bugle corps from various parts of the city, several high school bands, and a band from Boys' Town. Thirty-eight "thrill acts" gave a circus flavor to the occasion.

Gladys Swarthout of the Chicago City Opera company sang The Star-Spangled Banner and the Lord's prayer.

Green Sounds Keynote.

Gov. Dwight H. Green sounded the keynote of the rally when he declared the American people, altho peace loving, will permit no American ideals to be extinguished and will defend their liberties against any aggression.

The governor expressed hope that the nation will be spared "the tragedy of international combat."

"With insuperable defense from without and with spiritual defense of every American from within we know that no enslaving hand will ever despoil the sanctuary of our liberties," he said.

Mayor Kelly, asserting the throng was not huddled in fear or shattered by a lost cause, declared: "We do not hide in our hands a crumpled flag that has been trailed in the dust of defeat.

"May Take Guns," He Declares.

"What you and I want to keep in our American way of life will take guts, and may take guns, to defend. Yes, it takes guts, and it may take guns to back up our belief that our democracy can withstand any onslaught, whether economic or military. It takes guts, and it may take guns, to prove that no Hitler, nor any combination of Hitlers, can wipe out organized labor and the American system of free enterprise in favor of their own Godless government.

The Rt. Rev. E. J. Flanagan, founder of Boys' Town, near Omaha, Neb., cited "dangerous enemies within our ranks" as the chief threat to American ideals.

Warns of Peril to Labor.

"There are people working under the banner of organized labor on defense programs who in reality are agents of foreign powers, of isms, and who are opposed to our program of national defense," Msgr. Flanagan said. "These men are fomenting discontent, not for the benefit of labor, but for its eventual enslavement."

World conditions impel labor to reaffirm allegiance to Americanism, declared William L. McFetridge, president of the Chicago Flat Janitors' union and the Building Service Employés' International union. Plans for the rally originated with McFetridge, who presided yesterday. It was sponsored by the Flat Janitors' union, local 1, and by the School Janitors' and Municipal Employés' union, local 46.

Cites Union's Loyalty.

"In our union each member must be a citizen of our country," McFetridge said. "Their gathering here demonstrates their loyalty to the principles of the republic. The true members of organized labor, whether in the AFL or CIO, say that Americanism and the institutions for which it stands are paramount.

"The working men and women, thru their organizations in the labor movement, are on the threshold of a new era, and in this they stand firmly for the one and only ism—Americanism!"

Gordon LeFevre, president of the School Inspectors' union, local 36, was chairman of the rally. Dean William F. Clarke of DePaul university law school and Victor A. Olander also spoke.

Study Soldier Needs

Hughston M. McBain (left) and Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, who conferred at Camp Forrest, Tenn., in study of the soldiers' recreational needs.

A PLACE TO GO! THAT'S SOLDIER'S OFF DUTY NEED

USO Leader Describes Camp Scenes.

A majority of the 22,500 soldiers walk aimlessly the three available blocks in Tullahoma, Tenn. Then they stroll back again.

Other soldiers jam the two or three beer saloons to sip their brew in quarters designed and ventilated for the needs of Tullahoma tipplers. Soldiers try to find room for themselves among the 1,000 moving picture seats in the Tennessee town, and others take moderate pleasure in the four drug stores and among the juke boxes.

This picture of the lack of recreational advantages available to Chicago troops stationed at Camp Forrest was painted yesterday by Hughston M. McBain, general chairman of the United Service organizations in metropolitan Chicago on his return from making a survey of Tullahoma and Camp Forrest. McBain is in charge of raising $679,500 for the USO in this district.

Morale Is Aim of USO.

He explained that the object of the USO is to bring some contentment and mental relaxation to the soldiers. To do this the USO plans to raise $10,765,000 thruout the nation to man service houses for which the government is to spend 15 million dollars in construction.

"To make these service houses fill their planned purpose, every one is agreed they should not be operated by the government," McBain said. "After a week of military discipline, the young soldier wants to get away from camp for his leave from noon Saturday until 11 p. m. Sunday.

"To ask him to enjoy himself at camp is like asking a man to spend his week-end at the factory or in the office. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, in discussing the matter, said the boys are tired of looking at the officers and want to get away from camp on their leave."

Game Facilities Planned.

Present plans to fill the need for recreation—created by location of the training camps—is to make available in the service houses billiards, ping-pong, a restaurant, soft drinks [and the hope among the majority is that beer will not be prohibited], showers, and a reading and writing room. McBain said the service houses are to provide a place in near camp towns where the soldiers can take their girls, wives, or mothers, where they can dance, and where they can forget the discipline of camp.

Tentative plans for Camp Forrest call for service houses in Tullahoma, Murphysboro, and Nashville, 77 miles from camp and a much treasured goal of pleasure seeking soldiers. Here, McBain was told, 5,000 soldiers slept in the parks because they could not find rooms in hotels, and probably could not have afforded the bill if they had found rooms.

Banded together in the drive to provide soldier relaxation are the YMCA, the YWCA, the Salvation Army, the Traveler's Aid society, the Jewish Welfare board, and the National Catholic community service.

Roosevelt's Sore Throat Clears Up, Doctor Says

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt's sore throat was "practically cleared up" today, his physician reported, and his temperature had returned to normal, Dr. Ross T. McIntire said the President probably would be able to resume his full schedule tomorrow, but it was uncertain whether he would return to the executive offices or remain in the White House living quarters as he did Saturday.

an article that Americans of foreign stock will be interned and it even is suggested that the rank and file of such organizations as the America First committee and the Keep Us Out of War committee will be investigated carefully with a view to internment.

Assails Emergency Proclamation.

"President Roosevelt proclaims a national emergency, uplimited in scope. Since we are not at war, he has no more right to do this than I have. He is usurping the powers of the people. He has no more right to seize all private property than I have. He is acting as a dictator and will continue so to act unless he hears from the American people.

"Let us get this straight. Can it be possible that the congress will sit idly by and watch the President take us into an undeclared war in open defiance of the constitution of the United States, which clearly states that the congress alone can declare war? Can it be possible that the American people will sit idly by and see their sons shackled into a union now with Britain without any authority from them, from the congress or from the constitution?

"Today, we find the congress of the United States in about the position of the French Council of Five Hundred in the early autumn of 1799, just before Bonaparte drove them out of their chamber with his dragoons. Measures are offered for the consideration of the congress under rules which put a gag on debate. Amendments are offered to bills on the floor of congress which the members have not read. If this condition continues, our republic will pass away and we shall have an endless emergency dictatorship and only those measures will be submitted to the congress which Hitler would submit to the reichstag."

LAUNCH NEW PEACE DRIVE

The America First committee yesterday announced the most extensive speaking campaign it has undertaken thus far in its effort to keep the United States out of war.

Five noninterventionist leaders—Charles A. Lindbergh, Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], and Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho]—will stump all sections of the United States for the next three weeks rallying public opinion against war moves.

Between today and July 4 the America First speakers will address 14 anti-war rallies in 10 states.

Anti-war Meetings.

Following is a schedule of the addresses to be made by:

Lindbergh—June 20, Los Angeles, Cal.; July 2, San Francisco, Cal.

Wheeler—June 21, Loras college stadium, Dubuque, Ia.; June 22, Highland Park, Ill., high school auditorium; June 25, Hartford, Conn.; June 27, Atlanta, Ga.; July 1, Louisville, Ky.; July 4, Buffalo, N. Y.

Nye—Tonight, June 16, Cincinnati, O.; June 17, Greenville, O.; June 18, Kokomo, Ind.; June 19, Kansas City, Mo.

D. Worth Clark—June 19, San Diego, Cal.

Speakers will address three anti-war rallies in Chicago and its suburbs tonight. The meetings, all sponsored by local units of the America First committee, will begin at 8 p. m.

Economist to Speak.

Miss Gertrude Coogan, economist, will discuss "Winning Our Fight for Peace" before the Loyola chapter at 6519 Sheridan road. Attorney Charles W. Vail will speak before the Oak Park chapter at 736 Lake street in the suburb. His topic will be "Debunking the War Propaganda."

J. Sanford Otis, treasurer of the national America First committee, will speak on "Let's Keep the Country Out of War" at a rally of the Evanston chapter in the community house of the Ridgeville Park district, 908 Seward street, Evanston.

Three other rallies are scheduled for 8 p. m. Wednesday—Rogers Park chapter at 1554 Devon avenue, Near North Side chapter at 33 East Oak street, and Elgin chapter at the Masonic temple in Elgin, Ill.

Marlene Dietrich, Carol Landis, Joan Blondell, Virginia O'Brien, Dick Powell, and Eddie [Rochester] Anderson sang songs. Claudette Colbert, the three Ritz brothers, Jack Benny, Mary Livingston, and six Hollywood starlets put on specialties. Ray Bolger and the two Nicholas brothers danced. Gracie Allen and George Burns did a skit. Franklin D'Amour and his wife, Anita, performed an acrobatic number. Jack Benny and George Jessel were masters of ceremony.

REVISIONS MADE IN WAGE-HOUR LAW EXEMPTION

Washington, D. C., June 15 [Special].—Seventy-five per cent of the sales made or services performed by commercial establishments must be retail, instead of 50 per cent as hitherto, to qualify them for exemption from the wage-hour law, the wage and hour division announced today.

A substantial number of the 6,242,000 wage earners employed in the distribution and selling of goods and services were seen affected by this new interpretation of the law.

In the future, where wholesale, commercial, and industrial sales, non-retail in character, total more than 25 per cent, the 40 hour week, and the 30 cents an hour minimum wage will apply. The typical department store will continue to be exempt.

JOHN E. WARNER Says: "DON'T SCRATCH YOUR HAIR AWAY"

This young man has a good head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet his scalp is laden with dandruff, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. His hair is going and the constant itching is nature's warning that baldness is on the way. Right now a short period of the pleasant, low cost treatment used by John E. Warner Associates would get rid of his dandruff, check the abnormal hair fall and normalize his scalp. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness can be prevented by Warner treatment if taken care of in time; but once you are bald you can never hope to re-grow hair (except in rare cases of alopecia areata). A free private consultation with John E. Warner Associates would tell him that he could keep this fine head of hair by acting now.

A few years later it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. A youthful appearance is necessary these days to success in social and business contact. Don't let baldness come to you when scientific Warner treatment and proper care afterward can prevent it in most cases. The new Warner offices in Chicago are conveniently located, Suite 1320-24 in the North American Building, 36 S. State St., northwest corner of State and Monroe, Central 1451. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily—Saturdays to 6 P. M. Fees for treatment are very moderate and paid as the treatments are taken. There is a separate department for women. Associates in most of the principal cities.

4 PLANES CRASH IN PORTUGAL; 3 NAZI WAR CRAFT

British Convoy Attacked West of Gibraltar.

LISBON, Portugal, June 15.—Three German warplanes and a fourth plane of unannounced nationality have crashed mysteriously in the Spanish frontier zone of southern Portugal, it was announced officially today.

[A dispatch from La Linea, Spain, adjoining Gibraltar, said heavy explosions of bombs and gunfire were heard in the Mediterranean last night a few hours after the British aircraft carriers Ark Royal and Victorious, the battle cruiser Renown and four destroyers hurriedly left Gibraltar and disappeared into the fog. The departure of the warships was unusual because they had just entered the port in the morning.]

Presumably the planes crashed during last night, at least two of them falling in flames while a third caught fire after it crashed. Several bodies were found in the wreckage.

They plowed into open fields of the back country about three miles from the village of Amareleja which itself is only about five miles from the border. This is about 200 miles northwest of Gibraltar and 500 miles from the nearest German occupied territory.

Find Two Opened Parachutes.

Near the wreckage two opened parachutes were found, indicating that the crew of at least one plane had bailed out and upon landing had vanished into the countryside.

There were no further details in the first report from Amareleja but Lisbon sources concluded there had been an air battle above Portuguese or Spanish territory.

[A German attack on a British convoy in the Atlantic west of Gibraltar was announced in Berlin. A dispatch from La Linea, Spain, which faces Gibraltar, said that two warplanes of unidentified nationality ran a gantlet of anti-aircraft fire Sunday morning to fly over two British aircraft carriers, a battleship and a flotilla of destroyers as they entered Gibraltar harbor. No bombs were dropped.]

Claim Ten Ships Sunk.

BERLIN, June 15 (AP).—The Germans reported today the sinking of 10 British merchantmen totaling 59,000 tons in the Atlantic, five of them by air force units attacking a convoy west of Gibraltar this morning and five recently by submarine.

DNB, the German official news agency, reported today's foray in which it said 21,000 tons were sent to the bottom, while the high command said a lone U-boat had destroyed four freighters and a tanker aggregating 29,000 tons in the North Atlantic, the period covered by the operation being unstated.

Nearly 300,000 tons of British and British used shipping have been sent to the bottom in the first two weeks of June, bringing ship losses to nearly 12,000,000 tons in 21 months of warfare, DNB declared. The agency said the figures did not include ships sunk by mines.

Exceeds World War Loss.

The nearly 12,000,000 tons sunk so far, DNB said, more than equaled the record made by U-boats during the entire world war.

[According to Encyclopaedia Britannica, 11,189,000 tons of shipping were sent to the bottom in the world war.]

The high command said "light" RAF units bombed some points in western Germany overnight, but that they did only negligible damage. A British plane was reported downed while attempting to enter occupied territory.

Planes Torpedo Supply Ship.

LONDON, June 15 (AP).—British Beaufort torpedo planes hit and probably sank a 6,000 ton axis supply ship in an attack on a convoy off the Dutch coast this afternoon, the air ministry announced.

One plane was missing in today's attack while every one of last night's raiders returned safely after unloading their bombs in the Cologne area, it was reported.

In attacks by day yesterday on northern France, the air ministry said a squadron of bombers scored direct hits on airfields at St. Omer, machine gunned an airdrome at New Cherbourg and a German patrol boat in the channel and destroyed three German fighters in air fights. One British bomber was reported missing from these operations.

Crash in Portugal

(Story in adjoining column.)

Map locates Amareleja in Portugal where four planes have crashed. Three of them were Nazi warplanes. Fighting was also reported at Gibraltar.

NEW $16,000,000 AIRPORT OPENED AT WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., June 16 Monday (AP).—The new $16,000,000 Washington airport was opened one minute after midnight today as commercial air lines transferred operations from the inadequate field that gave President Roosevelt a nightmare.

The President had said that he set federal agencies to work building the new field on filled in land at gravelly point, three miles from downtown Washington, after dreaming in 1938 of a disastrous accident at the old airport.

The new airport covers 700 acres and has four runways, the longest 6,855 feet. Mr. Roosevelt dedicated it some time ago and the official opening was marked by no special ceremonies.

THIEVES RAID RESTAURANT.

Thieves entered a restaurant at 833 West 79th street yesterday and stole chewing gum valued at $85, according to the owner, Herman Eichner.

CLOTHES RATION SPENDING SPREE WORRIES BRITISH

Women Warned to Use Coupons Thriftily.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 15. — Apparently without thought for the future, many women in the last week have frittered away all of their clothes ration coupons. Retailers thruout the country report reckless spending and tell of women who, within an hour after rationing went into effect, handed over the counter 26 coupons in exchange for stockings and lingerie. Others used 15 or 20 to buy house furnishing fabrics. Each person receives 66 coupons a year.

Mrs. Winston Churchill.

Donald Barber, secretary of the Retail Distributors association, showed concern over the prodigality and said women should plan their clothes purchases over a three year period.

"However bad things are now, it will be more difficult next year, and still more difficult the year after," he warned. "The end of rationing food or clothes will not come with peace."

More Coupons, Women Plead.

Already women are pleading with Oliver Lyttelton, president of the board of trade, to issue extra coupons for expectant mothers for the purchase of wool and materials for a layette.

Men seem to have accepted the rationing more seriously, for the sale of men's clothing has dropped.

How Mrs. Winston Churchill is planning her wardrobe under the ration system has not been disclosed, but an article in the Sunday Pictorial, entitled "Churchill Under Microscope," revealed that the prime minister may appreciate the problem facing most husbands.

She Loves Costly Clothes.

"I never heard the Churchills argue or quarrel," wrote Miss Phyllis Moir, a former private secretary. "But Mrs. Churchill's mild extravagances—she loves expensive clothes—would occasionally provoke a good humored outburst from her husband, who secretly adored seeing his wife exquisitely gowned. 'Do you realize how many articles that is going to cost me?' he would protest in a scandalized voice, and Mrs. Churchill would dutifully promise to be more careful." ["Articles" refers to the time when Churchill's principal activity was paid journalism.]

INJURED IN BASEMENT BLAST.

John Cusack, 26 years old, 4114 South Oakley avenue, was injured slightly yesterday by an explosion in the basement of the building at 210 East 18th street, where he is engineer. He told police a pool of waste oil above the furnace exploded, tearing loose a brick which struck him on the head.

NAVY TO OPEN COURSES FOR MECHANICS TODAY; 250 WILL START STUDY

The navy will take over a wing of the new 3½ million dollar Chicago Vocational school at 87th street and Anthony avenue today and begin training 250 naval aviation mechanics and machinists' mates. Capt. Edward A. Evers, commander of the 4th naval reserve area, said classes would be increased later to 1,000 men.

Facilities at the school, which was completed 10 months ago, were turned over to the navy department by the Chicago board of education. The government installed $200,000 worth of machinery which, at the end of the national emergency, will be presented to the schools for vocational training.

The naval trainees will be quartered in the Naval Reserve armory at the foot of Randolph street. Buses will carry them between the school and the barracks.

THE PLEASANT-TASTING EFFERVESCENT SALINE

BE LOYAL, SERVE AMERICA, YALE GRADUATES TOLD

Mere Pledge Not Enough, Dr. Seymour Says.

New Haven, Conn., June 15 [Special].—President Charles Seymour of Yale university in his baccalaureate sermon in Woolsey hall today called on the graduating class to serve the nation by acquiting itself with a loyalty which demands more than a simple pledge to a patriotic formula.

"The need of the sense of responsibility has expanded as our mode of life has changed," said Dr. Seymour. "The increase in population, the extension of the means of transportation and communication, intensive industrialization, have forced its enlargement.

"We may resent many of the demands made upon us by the community, but we must heed them. It is a condition we face and not a theory. So it is in the life of nations and their contacts with each other. To close our eyes to the situation in fancied self security, to assume that any individual or nation is sufficient unto itself, is not merely to court disaster, but to forget the implications of the ideal we defend."

PLAN FOR YEARS AHEAD

Cambridge, Mass., June 15 [Special].—President James B. Conant, in the baccalaureate sermon at Harvard's 290th commencement exercises today, urged the seniors to plan their lives not for the fruition of their hopes but for "the long years ahead."

Dr. Conant called the present period one of doubt, "when any interpretation of human conduct which is not stated in terms of selfishness, greed, and lust is regarded in many circles with suspicion."

"In recent years many men of penetrating intelligence have been busy blowing to bits almost every combination of words which express high human aspirations," he said. "Today, we pick our way as best we can amid the rubble left by these nihilists."

For much of "this desolation" he blamed "politicians, advertisers, newspaper men and public speakers" using fine phrases "to make palatable a variety of dubious enterprises."

ASKS HARMONIOUS U. S.

Princeton, N. J., June 15 [Special].—Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton university, today blamed rationalization of fear and anxiety for a "considerable share of the present national disunion," in his address at the baccalaureate service of the 194th commencement.

Dr. Dodds called upon the graduating class to work for a "more harmonious and fruitful America on a basis more sound and permanent than we have yet known."

"America does not stand at the bleak end of a broken trail," he said. "The loose talk, of which we have heard so much in recent years, that there are no frontiers left to youth any more has emanated generally from defeatists who could not recognize a front if they saw one."

BLASTS AT DICTATORS

New York, June 15 [Special].—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, declared today that there could be no compromise between the freedom of democracy and the slavery of dictatorship. He made the principal address at the commencement exercises of Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

"We must be willing to protect our democracy and our ideals at any risk and regardless of cost," the governor, a leading proponent of all out aid to Britain, declared.

HONOR WILLKIE, KNOX

Hanover, N. H., June 15 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie was awarded an honorary degree today by Dartmouth college, whose president, Ernest M. Hopkins, told him that "in political defeat you have become a greater force for unity than would have been possible for you in victory." Willkie, listed only as "citizen" in the citation, and Navy Secretary Frank Knox were awarded honorary doctor of laws degrees at the college's 172d commencement.

BACK ARMY: MARSHALL

Hartford, Conn., June 15 (AP).—Gen. George C. Marshall, United States army chief of staff, told a Trinity college audience today that "the time has come for the people of this country to stand completely unified in spirit behind our army and navy in the making, and present a united front to the world."

"We are founding a new concept of the duties of citizenship," Gen. Marshall declared in his baccalaureate address, "and as a democracy we shall rise to the supreme test of democracy."

The new drafted army deserves "the strong backing of the people everywhere" because it "has progressed beyond the point of being only an experiment in democracy," he said.

HONOR SOCIALIST MAYOR

Middletown, Conn., June 15 (AP).—Staid old Wesleyan university brought out today a degree it never awarded in its 109 years to honor Socialist Mayor Jasper McLevy of Bridgeport who started life as an unschooled roofer. The degree was that of DMA [doctor of municipal administration].

The 61 year old, four term mayor, who does not even hold a grammar school diploma, was presented to the commencement gathering as "one of the most useful and beloved public servants in the state of Connecticut."

PERIL IN MONOPOLY!

Palo Alto, Cal., June 15 (AP).—Monopoly in private business and the closed shop in labor were classified in the same category today by President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Sanford university who has just completed his 26th year as head of the university.

"Monopoly and the closed shop," he told Stanford's graduating class, "are milestones on the way to Fascism, Nazism, communism, and other tyrannies that come to our civilizations because of the tendency of men of power to seek exclusive control."

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, who as Lou Henry was a freshman at Stanford in 1895, also addressed the 1,308 students receiving degrees.

ROTTING RELIEF FOOD A PROBLEM IN BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., June 15 [Special].—People who live in the vicinity of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation's distribution depot here are angry, and so is Leo Haas, the city garbage inspector.

The citizens have been complaining for a long time about the odors that afflict the neighborhood. Haas disclosed that the odors emanate from rotting foodstuffs which the depot discards in a vacant space nearby. Today he decreed that city garage trucks no longer will remove the foodstuffs to the city dump.

Harold L. Bauman, superintendent of the depot, denied that there had been excessive waste in this or other instances. He also denied that government-purchased commodities were shipped here in quantities too great for efficient distribution and use.

The foods, transported to Bloomington by the carload, are distributed free to persons on direct relief and to some beneficiaries of old age assistance, mothers' pensions, and WPA.

KILLS ESTRANGED WIFE AND SELF IN GARY CAFE

Milan Petrovic, 34 years old, yesterday shot and killed his estranged wife, Doris, 24, in a Gary, Ind., restaurant, wounded Tom George, son of the café owner, and then shot and killed himself.

The shooting occurred in the café at 100 West 7th street, a block from the main street of Gary. Gary police said Petrovic, who lived at 4005 Adams street, was unemployed. His wife was to have obtained a divorce from him today in Lake county Superior court.

Mrs. Petrovic was a waitress in the restaurant. Miss Stella Blaha, 36, and Miss Norma Gerhart, 25, two other waitresses, saw the shooting.

Captured by Dutch

New York, June 15 [Special].—Camilla Koffler, Rumanian photographer of animals, and Mrs. Renee Braxton, who will join her husband in this country, were among the passengers on the French liner Winnipeg when it was captured by a Dutch warship off the West Indian island of Martinique. They arrived in New York last week aboard the Alcoa liner Evangeline, which they boarded at Port au Prince.

EMPLOY NEGROES IN ARMS PLANTS, F. D. R. TELLS OPM

President Cites Reports of Discrimination.

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—Asserting that he had received complaints of nation-wide discrimination against Negroes in preparedness industries, President Roosevelt called upon the Office of Production Management tonight to take immediate steps to deal "effectively" with this "grave" situation.

In a memorandum to William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, co-directors of OPM, Mr. Roosevelt said that "no nation combatting the increasing threat of totalitarianism can afford arbitrarily to exclude large segments of its population from its defense industries." It is "even more important," he added, "for us to strengthen our unity and morale by refuting at home the very theories which we are fighting abroad."

Nation-wide, He Says.

"Complaints have repeatedly been brought to my attention," he declared, "that available and much needed workers are being barred from defense production solely because of race, religion, or national origin. It is said that at a time when labor stringencies are appearing in many areas, fully qualified workers are being turned from the gates of industry on specifications entirely unrelated to efficiency and productivity. Also that discrimination against Negro workers has been nation-wide, and other minority racial, national, and religious groups have felt its effect in many localities.

Opens Doors to All.

"Our government cannot countenance continued discrimination against American citizens in defense production. Industry must take the initiative in opening the doors of employment to all loyal and qualified workers regardless of race, national origin, religion or color. American workers, both organized and unorganized, must be prepared to welcome the general and much needed employment of fellow workers of all racial and nationality origins in defense industries.

"In the present emergency it is imperative that we deal effectively and speedily with this problem. I shall expect the Office of Production Management to take immediate steps to facilitate the full utilization of our productive man power."

82 LEADERS WILL ASSIST DRIVE TO SAVE AUDITORIUM

Eighty-two business, civic, and religious leaders of Chicago and Illinois, including Gov. Dwight H. Green, Mayor Kelly, and former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, have agreed to serve on an advisory committee created to save the Auditorium theater and hotel from demolition, it was announced yesterday.

The movement to save the historic building, sponsored by the Greater Central District association and the Wabash Avenue District association, was started when the owners announced it would be closed. They said that continued financial losses and an accumulation of $1,150,000 in back taxes forced their decision.

Infectious Dandruff more than 7 out of 10 IMPROVED IN CLINICAL TEST

Such a delightful, easy, stimulating treatment! Just douse Listerine Antiseptic on the scalp, morning and night, and follow with vigorous and persistent massage.

Listerine, the same germicide which has been famous for more than 50 years as an antiseptic gargle, kills millions of germs on scalp and hair, including Pityrosporum Ovale recognized by outstanding specialists as a causative agent of infectious-type dandruff.

7 out of every 10!

This germ-killing action, we believe, helps to explain why, in a clinical test, 76% of dandruff sufferers—7 out of every 10!—showed either complete disappearance of or marked improvement in the symptoms of dandruff within a month.

False Teeth Wearers Often Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities... Recommend Polident

A thin dark film collects on plates and bridges. This film soaks up odors and impurities like a sponge! It holds germs and decay bacteria, and it is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. It gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, acid or danger. It is Polident, a powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tarnish and odor. Makes breath sweeter—and plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a blessing for comfort, convenience and hygiene. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and dentists everywhere.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Do this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes—Rinse—and it's ready to use!

ITALY HITS BACK; ORDERS LISTING F U. S. PROPERTY

rmans Silent; Roosevelt Move No Surprise.

OME, June 15 (AP).—The Italian vernment today announced that it d taken suitable retaliatory measres, including the ordering of a registration of United States property in Italy, following President Roosevelt's blocking of Italian and German credits in America.

[Washington dispatches said American assets in Italy were estimated at $142,000,000.]

Some observers declared the Italian action might even be the prelude to a diplomatic break with the United States.

Altho the official communique referred only to registration of United States property in Italy, it was thought in American circles that this would be interpreted to mean the property of all American citizens. The only American government property in Italy is the embassy which enjoys extraterritorial privileges.

Little Difference in Situation.

The communique said, "Following the blocking of Italian and German funds and the registration of all foreign property by the President of the United States, the Fascist government, besides ordering suitable measures in reply, has ordered immediate registration of all property belonging to the United States and existing in Italy."

American quarters said their first reaction to this retaliation was that it would make little difference in the situation already existing. Large American credits in Italy have been entirely blocked by the Italian government since 1935.

Special Negotiations.

American firms already have millions of lire effectively tied up here because of the Fascists' refusal to permit them to translate lire into dollars abroad except in extraordinary cases. In these instances the amounts usually are small and the deal is completed only after special negotiations.

Most American firms already have been required to accept the control of Italian officers since the war began. This is not sequestration of the properties but it effectively assures that the firms' business is run in accordance with Italian war needs.

Move Anticipated by United States.

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—Rome's retaliatory action against American assets in Italy had been fully anticipated here. American assets in Italy have been estimated at $142,000,000, including $70,000,000 of direct investments, such as common stocks or property, $70,000,000 of bonds, and $2,000,000 in cash. Americans have an estimated $427,500,000 in Germany.

No Surprise to Germans.

BERLIN, June 15 (AP).—The freezing of axis assets in the United States came as no surprise to most German business men.

As a matter of fact, surprise was expressed in some quarters that President Roosevelt hadn't taken this step sooner in view of the repugnance, or even alarm, with which German economic and financial policies are regarded by many Americans.

Informally, some Germans called attention to recent American statements that Germany's movable assets to a large extent already had been removed from the United States and that so far as possible the reich had prepared itself for the eventuality of losing at least temporary control over its American holdings.

Sees Room for Both Systems.

Almost as if in expectation of some crisis in German-American financial relations, the newspaper Voelkischer Boebachter published an elaborate defense of the German clearing and exchange system and Adolf Hitler's efforts to make Europe more nearly self-sufficient.

Challenging some American contentions that the world must choose between autarchy or extensive foreign trade, the newspaper said autarchy and international trade could exist together.

CLERKS' UNION TO SEEK COURT CURB ON GOONS

Members of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association said yesterday they will appeal today to Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan for an injunction to prevent Max Caldwell from molesting members of the union. Caldwell, alias Max Pollack, a convicted bootlegger and gangster, is business agent of the unit.

Caldwell's control of the union was broken by the international union, when he was deposed temporarily. Insurgent members appealed to Judge Finnegan last week for an order to force Caldwell to account for nearly $900,000 he collected from them in the last five years, and a hearing on the request was postponed until today.

"The clerks will ask the court's protection," their attorney, Francis Heisler, announced, "because of many threats against leaders of the anti-Caldwell movement. So far they have resisted many attempts at intimidation, and they fear violence by Caldwell and goons."

A FIGHTING MAN HITS MIDDLE EAST (AND IT KNOWS IT)

Where There Is a Battle, There's the Australian.

BY ROBERT NEVILLE.

[Copyright.]

New York, June 15.—The Australians are the enfants terribles of the middle east. They are blessed with an excess of energy that leads them to perform strange and almost miraculous deeds.

The Italians generally respond to the capers of the Aussies by hoisting a white flag, while the Egyptians grow pale at the sight of them.

Whenever you see a fight in Cairo or Alexandria, it is a safe bet that at least one Aussie is involved. They like a fight so much so that their cousins, the English, sometimes wonder whether the Aussies make any great distinction between friend and foe.

They're Tall and Tough.

The Aussie is generally a taller, tougher individual than his brothers in the imperial forces. Having come from the bush country, where life is hard, he is inclined to belittle men who find the desert a gruelling experience. He looks, on the average, about 10 years older than the other empire soldiers in Cairo, but I have heard some complaints that he does not act his age. These complaints come generally from the English.

When they get into a battle the Australians fight like demons. Their idea of war is to advance and sing while doing it.

There are three divisions, some 50,000 Australians, in the middle east, and they are all volunteers. Australia could not enforce conscription for overseas fighting during the last war, and it has not been tried in this one.

All Officers Disliked.

The Aussies usually express dislike for their superior officers, and that goes for their commander, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, as well as for their second lieutenants. Blamey was formerly police chief in Melbourne. When Lady Blamey suddenly appeared in Cairo recently, criticism was rampant among the ranks.

The Australian soldier would rather be caught dead than saluting a British officer. They simply don't do it en masse, and, of course Britain can't court-martial the whole Australian army.

Fury in Cleopatra's Land.

The atmosphere of the Holy Land has a more or less soothing effect on the Aussies, but the country of Cleopatra, west of the Suez, has the opposite effect. Some Englishmen regard the Aussie as no gentleman, an attitude that doesn't worry the Aussie, but what the Aussie thinks of Egypt and the Egyptians can not be printed in a family newspaper.

Among the things the Aussies did in the world war was to burn down a Cairo district called the fish market, actually the red light district. The Egyptian government and the British army have taken pains to guard this district in this war.

Americans? Well, Now—

The Englishmen, not understanding the Aussies, have trouble getting along with them. Another American correspondent and I were in a bar one night. Two Aussies started to pick an argument and one of them called us "Limeys" [Australian slang for English soldier or sailor]. We hastily explained we were Americans.

"Well, why didn't you say so in the first place?" said the other Aussie, and with that they moved over and joined us in a friendly and long conversations.

AIR POWER AND SEA POWER.

The battle for Crete cost the British navy, according to admiralty reports, the cruisers Gloucester, Fiji, York, and Calcutta, and the destroyers Hereward, Imperial, Juno, Greyhound, Kelly, and Kashmir. The Germans had no naval force. The attack on the ships was by air and they were unable to defend themselves or protect the island. It was necessary to withdraw the fleet with as many troops as could be evacuated. Crete was conquered by the airplane, which drove off the ships and landed the invaders.

Off the Libyan coast the British monitor Terror, which had been operating with 15 inch guns against the land fortifications, was sunk recently by 500 pound aerial bombs. The Terror tried to fight off the attacking planes with all available guns and put up a barrage which was described as terrific, but one plane got thru to sink the ship. Both off Crete and off Libya the ships which were destroyed were fighting with everything at their disposal.

When the British planes dropped down on the Italian fleet at Taranto and sent aerial torpedoes into them, inflicting great damage and sinking several of the largest Italian ships, the action was regarded as highly favoring the plane attack because the ships were caught unaware at anchorage, with part of their crews ashore and unprepared. The British ships which were lost were fighting the aircraft. The German Bismarck sank the battle cruiser Hood and fought off the Prince of Wales but was tracked down by the airplane and put out of action by aerial torpedoes. It was fighting with the best guns the Germans could invent for the protection of a battleship against air attack.

Announcement was made on June 13 that a German pocket battleship, either the Admiral Scheer or the Luetzow, having been detected steaming northward along the Norwegian coast, screened by a number of destroyers, was attacked by a long range bombing plane and crippled by a torpedo. The ship was severely damaged, as was indicated by the reduced speed at which it retired towards the Skagerrak. The British admiralty has announced also that the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, at anchor at Brest, have been virtually put out of commission by air attacks.

Mr. Roosevelt in his report to congress on the progress or lack of progress under the lend-lease bill mentioned a fact which his navy department requires the newspapers to suppress. That was in his reference to the use of American shipyards by the British naval vessels for repair. We don't know the extent to which injuries have been done the British war vessels and the public is not allowed to know how many are in American naval yards. The German admiralty lists three large British ships damaged or destroyed by submarines but apparently the greatest naval losses Great Britain has suffered, aside from the Hood, have been caused by the airplane.

Naval men cannot be stubborn in their view of these facts. They must be taken into account.

CHEESE IN THE WAR MAKING.

The cheese makers of the midwest must have been much astonished when Mr. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, suddenly sounded off to the American people, asking them to eat less cheese in order that England might get more of it. For years dairy states, such as Wisconsin, have been trying to create home markets for varieties of American cheese and to increase the consumption.

The American family doesn't make a great use of this valuable food. Dairy industries have been making an intelligent effort to develop a taste for cheese products and to improve them. As John A. Becker of Monroe, Wis., president of the Central Feed association, told that organization in its convention in Milwaukee, it was only a few months ago that the problem was one of surpluses. The government was a buyer to take dairy products off the market. Now the people are urged not to eat cheese.

Lord Woolton, the British food minister, has asked for a reduced American milk and cream consumption and the American war propagandists have advocated creamless days. The American producers have every reason to resent these incursions into the daily lives and homes of people to make them war conscious. Such appeals as Mr. Wickard's to do without cheese are calculated to increase the war psychology by multiplying the sacrifices which a people in the critical times of a great war in which they were engaged might be asked to make. The suggestion is that war is already upon us, and the propagandists believe that the accumulation of these suggestions will bring about a general acceptance of their thesis.

The idea is that if people can be brought to think that they must use less electricity, must not consume gasoline for pleasure trips, must deny themselves certain foods, must limit their consumption of others, and must place themselves upon a rigid war regimen, they will feel that they are at war and it will be easy to take the final steps which make the illusion a fact.

The cheese makers have a particular reason for resenting this because it may set them back years in their efforts to create a domestic market for a fine domestic product which, if its uses were extended, would contribute to the prosperity of many agricultural regions.

The build-up of the war in the United States has been conducted with unscrupulous manipulation. William Fulton reported in THE TRIBUNE from New York that pupils in the public schools of the suburban area are being made air raid conscious and have been carrying home questionnaires to their parents in which the parents are asked to reply whether they have had any training in "air raid warning, fire fighting, first aid, house wrecking, police work, Morse code signaling," and other services. One private school has already undertaken an imitation of the English evacuation system. The pupils are carrying on their studies in a war shelter in Connecticut.

There have been eras in our history when a war fever started in the country. In other days government felt it to be the duty of persons having the welfare of the country in trust to moderate the fever and to try every and all ways of avoiding the crisis that was threatening. This government schemes to cause a fever and get a war.

EMPIRE AND THE FOUR FREEDOMS.

British troops and Gen. De Gaulle's French troops are fighting other French troops in Syria for the possession of that country. It is an Arab country, governed under a French mandate. In the other war the Arabs were promised their freedom by the allies. After the war some of them got it in spots and in a manner, but large and populous areas were regarded as the wards if not the spoils of victory and where possession was desirable the friend and ally of wartime moved in as the master and ruler. The Arabs didn't like it but they had to take it. Some of them fought and some of them were killed.

Mr. Hull has a great deal to say to the French, accusing them of allowing the Germans to use Syria as a base for attack upon the British in Iraq, another Arab country which British troops entered to protect British oil. Mr. Hull has nothing to say about the Syrians or the Iraqi. He takes sides not for the native population but for the British and one set of Frenchmen against another set of Frenchmen and the Nazis.

The people of Syria and Iraq object to this war as much as the people of Illinois and Indiana would object to it. They object to it as much as the people of Denmark and Norway objected to it. But it is with them and all they can do is run for cover, if they have that much luck.

Among other things aimed at in the fighting in Syria is possession of Egypt. Egypt, after a painful history with European financiers, with European warships and British troops, attained independence again of a sort, with a king and a cabinet and a parliamentary system, weighted down with obligations. It is neutral but it is a British camp and it is in the war without being in it.

The Egyptians do not want to fight the war and they do not want it fought over them. They'll have little to say about that if the Germans can force their way on from Sollum. Egypt is a part of the battleground for the control of the Suez canal and the near east. Mr. Hull in his rebuke to the Vichy government denounces it for aiding and abetting the German attack upon Egypt and the canal area, but he does not say anything about the Egyptians. The British have no more right in Egypt than the Germans have in Holland, and neither the British nor the French have any more right in Syria than the Germans have in Greece. Both British and De Gaullist French undertook to make the Syrians feel happier about it by telling them they should get their freedom. They were promised that in the other war.

The American people would go to great lengths to help government resist invasion. They would do a great deal to help England fight off the bombing attacks. They are incurring a prodigious national debt and are facing heavy taxation to provide defense war material for the British. If this effort saves Great Britain from defeat and protects it from the invader many Americans will think that their country did well. But there many of us would draw the line.

A majority of Americans would draw it there, as the expression of public opinion shows. They would not send the youth of the United States to be killed to keep the British in Egypt where the Egyptians won't join them in fighting against the Germans or in helping the British drive the French out of Syria to keep the Germans from getting in.

It is of no use to try to drag the American people into a war to support imperial conquest or to create dominion over subject peoples. The crusade for the four freedoms which carries war to lands unable to avoid it cannot be made attractive by a rhetorical disguise of plain facts. Ten million American soldiers are not to be used for such purposes.

NEGROES AND THE ARMY.

Two youths who stole an airplane the other day and ended a joyride with a crackup on the Outer drive were not pioneers in that type of escapade. Neither was the fact, disclosed by reports of the affair, that the plane belonged to a colored flying instructor, exactly unique.

Others of his race have met the exacting tests required for an air instructor's license. In time, it is to be hoped, these demonstrations that color is no bar to flying skill will result in widening the present tiny opening by which Negroes may enter the war service. The army is to be congratulated on making the present opening. Racial complications are not to be dismissed lightly, and a great deal of prejudice had to be overcome to get to the present point.

Max Schmeling's appearance among the Nazi parachutists in Crete was not unexpected. They are an élite corps and get the most athletic of the German personnel. The man who some years ago whipped Schmeling and sent him to a hospital is subject to the draft. If he is called, Joe Louis and other colored athletes should have the opportunity to volunteer, if they wish, for the parachute or air corps.

Editorial of the Day

TEACHERS THROW OUT THE REDS.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

The American Federation of Teachers is to be commended for expelling three of its largest locals, two in New York City and one in Philadelphia, because they allowed themselves to become communist ridden.

The decisive vote to expel—80 per cent of the 33,000 members who were eligible for this ballot—shows that the teaching profession is soundly American. Also, that it realizes this fundamental—no labor union can prosper in this county, or can even hold its own, if it allows itself to be controled by a foreign philosophy.

The communists have to be cleaned out of the labor union movement or they will destroy it. The teachers have taken the first step in their organization by ousting these locals. We hope they push on to the point where no communist can hold a membership in the AFT. For the matter of that, why should there be communist teachers?

We wouldn't be surprised if the angels were now patrolling the Milky Way.—Peoria Journal-Transcript.

No doubt we'll be glad to come back after seeing America's wastelands and gardens of paradise for thousands of miles. Travel is a blessing only if it makes for renewed contentment with home. Upon our return the old town will look like a jewel among cities [along the lake front, at least], and the old abode will seem palatial in contrast to the lodgings of a motorist's nights.

Many hostelries in the latest edition of Duncan Hines' handbook for auto gypsies are given the notation, "Pets permitted." But our dog will go to Mr. Schaefer's boarding school near Glenview, as usual, because such a trip is too much of a strain on an emotional canine temperament. Moreover, a car left standing in the summer sun develops enough heat to fry a salamander. If you insist on traveling with dogs, try Great Danes. They can take it.

SHUN NOT TEARS.

Beloved, shun not tears. They are a part
Of life's mysterious alchemy, and bring
The seeds sown in the garden of the heart
To glorious and perfect flowering.
Not in the soil's fertility alone
Exists the gift of life; and all in vain
The sun would shine—no flower could be grown
Without the benediction of the rain.
This is the rule of life: the rich, proud earth;
The cadenced fall of rain; the sun's quick power . . .
And by them all that grows is brought to birth
And blossoming, at the appointed hour.
And from the heart that takes the healing gift
Of tears, a fragrant flowering shall lift.

Mr. "T. D.," the Clay Pipe Crackpot.

The initials "T. D." on clay pipes stand for Timothy Dexter, an eccentric New England capitalist, born in Malden, Mass., in 1793. He was originally a tanner's apprentice, but at an early age went into business for himself and made a fortune; then he moved to Newburyport, bought a large estate, and adopted the name of "Lord Timothy Dexter." He adorned his extensive grounds with wooden statues at a cost of many thousands of dollars, dressed in a half-military, half-classic style, and rode about the city in a coach patterned after the ornate cars of the pagan gods.

He wrote a book named, "Pickle for the Knowing Ones, or Plain Truth in Homespun Dress." The first edition of this book was entirely without punctuation, and complaints from readers caused him to put out a second edition, in exactly the same style, but with the insertion on the last page of the following note: "Fourder mister printer the Nowing ones complane of my book the first edition had no stops I put in A nuf here and they may pepper and salt it as they please." Following this there was a page of all sorts of punctuation marks.

This humorist, in his last will, left a large sum of money to be expended in the erection of a factory where clay pipes were to be manufactured and supplied to the people at cost, and those clay pipes were, and such pipes still are, stamped with the initials "T. D." His biography was written by Samuel L. Knapp. Aitcheff.

BROKEN REEDS.

The pipes of Pan . . . how still they be!
Beside the river, moodily
The great god wanders. In his hand
A broken reed. His pleasant land
Uproarious with the sound of guns.
What chance has Pan against the Huns!

Pan! Bide your time. Tho night be long,
And hearts too heavy now for song,
Yet Greece has lived thru many a fear,
And reeds will grow again next year!

Patent Medicine's Place in Literature.

In referring to Wizard Oil on May 28 you omitted another well known medicinal oil cure of our grandfathers' day. Tho it did not succeed in building a structure as pretentious as the Grand Opera house, its inventor exerted a strong influence upon the life of a famous American poet. I refer to Townsend's Magic Oil. In the late 1860's and early 1870's Townsend's business address was 171 Market street, Lima, O.

I now offer a suggestion to the president of the Allen County, Ohio, Historical society. After a search has been made to determine the site of the pharmacy shop of the above address, a brass plate should be erected in memory of Townsend and his poet protégé reading as follows:

Let the person whose casual glance may come to rest upon this plaque reflect that he who befriends the Muses enjoys undying fame. On these premises in 1872 Mr. C. M. Townsend, owner and manager of the Magic Oil company, gave shelter and employment to James Whitcomb Riley. S. N.

THIS SOLVES EVERYTHING.

Be brief. Succinct. Or terse.
And eke, what have you?
I'm no philosopher, nor kin to such,
But weary observation sure has taught me
The whole world talks, and writes, my friend,
Too much.

A COMFORTABLE "CHANGE OF LIFE."

COMPARATIVELY few women encounter great difficulty during the "change of life." Occasionally, this rule is broken and symptoms may be sufficiently annoying to render life miserable. Nature dislikes to surrender the function of childbearing and, when called upon to do so, may create quite a fuss. So many adjustments must be made by the organs concerned that at times considerable distress will ensue.

The so-called climacteric usually comes about the middle forties, altho warning signals may appear earlier. The ovaries no longer fulfill their egg producing duties, and laziness may overtake other structures. Victims will complain of various disturbances—the most striking of which are hot flashes, extreme nervousness, and irritability of temper. Then, too, unless the diet is watched carefully, considerable weight may be added. This type of obesity may not be easy to control.

The question is often asked, are all of these manifestations due to the slowing down of the reproductive powers? May they not arise because of many other factors such as worries, personality clashes and the like?

Ofttimes the answer may be arrived at by testing the response of the patient to the injection of sex hormones. If this procedure is followed by the prompt disappearance of trouble, we may assume that the absence of an important secretion is responsible. Estrin not infrequently works a spectacular transformation. No longer are the psychic and nervous reactions on edge. Then it is that the patient settles down to a perfectly satisfactory type of existence. Worries that were mountain high subside.

In starting his investigation the physician generally tests the urine for a substance known as "prolan." Unless it is found in fair percentage, the use of endocrine products will be of little benefit. On the other hand, mild sedatives may be called for. This may prove true with some sufferers who present significant complaints—and who are older—49 to 52. At any rate, there is no harm in adding such quieting preparations to an indicated gland extract, as this combination may be more helpful than either remedy alone.

No one should look upon this normal process as serious, even tho it may be attended with unhappiness. But the entire household may be made to suffer as well as the one who holds the center of the stage. Trifles may be magnified into insults and perfectly normal behavior may be thought to mean an intentional slight. Moreover, scolding and nagging may develop until the home is in a turmoil.

Confronted by this situation, the doctor can pour oil on troubled waters. First of all, he can explain what is happening and why. He can then suggest to all the members of the family that during this interval, forbearance, understanding, and kindness will do far more good than resentment.

Overeating must not become a habit. Some outside interests should be insisted upon, with a reasonable amount of diversion — the movies, theater, church activities, etc. Walks and gardening will give vent to the urge for outdoor exercise.

We should keep in mind that the nervous woman may become more so. Fortunately, the siege will not last long—a few months to a year and a half is the average. Those who are inclined to develop symptoms can be placed on an even keel with a few doses of a hormone such as theelin or emmenin.

We should recall that we are not dealing with anything unusual or rare. The condition is neither to be feared nor anticipated with dread. In fact, as every medical man knows, the great majority of women will not experience the slightest discomfort.

CATARACT.

REPLY.

Certain changes occur within the lens with the formation of opaque particles which prevent the passage of light. These increase and, after a time, the entire structure [lens] blocks the entering rays. During the process sight fails gradually.

MOCKINGBIRD UP NORTH.

Glen Rock, N. J., June 12.—My rose garden in these Ramapo foothills of northern New Jersey is, I believe, the mockingbirds' farthest north. Rarest and greatest of our singers, I add him and the hummingbird to the 28 species that, wafted on the wings of Aeolus, visit my garden. Columbines, cherries, and roses called him, as petunias and delphinia soon will entice the jeweled hummingbird.

Few, perhaps, will believe that a mockingbird was ever seen and heard above the Potomac. I have known him all over the southland, from the blazing Rio Grande to soft shining Virginia. They say he stole his 20 lyrics. Maybe 20 species stole their notes from him and specialized. But here he was on three June mornings at 6 o'clock, with the world all to himself [except he sings for God], parting the curtains of spring and summer, remembering the echoes of the music of the high spheres, and obeying the signals of earth's billion song resurrections since the chaos, when his kind took up the prophesy.

I could not believe my ears or eyes. I was transfixed. Was it a catbird? The song was too long, too varied, too full, and wildly tremolo. The catbird flits about. Mimus of many notes stayed steady on one bare branch of a mountain ash, his tail down; he seemed to hug the branch closely to his breast, while he threw his vocal head to all quarters of the listening wood and garden. Nature was enrapt. The wide flung chorus that the sun awakened, stilled itself, and was all look and worship. A high priest was here! For 20 minutes, clinging to one place, he gave a full opera—melting lyrics, trilled cadenzas, coloratura notes dropping like water beads, dramatic arias of sustained power, violins, smothered notes, clairnet, and flute tones, deeper sorrows of brass throats, up and down, hurled and caught, repeated and mixed. He whipped the wind with echoes. He held all nature.

It was a high, and rare, and hushed event as old and as new as life. Over the world I have gone to many lands of song and seen and heard and been told, but to my dying day no one perhaps will believe the truth that I ever heard a mockingbird in my garden as far north as these Ramapos. Mark well the sacred chosen spot and visit it all ye wondering winged creatures! I prefer to think I was in the zephyr stirred gardens of eternal peace just this side of Eden!

JOHN STUART THOMSON.

WE GOT THEM A MEMBER.

Chicago, June 12.—Thanks for your article on interlocking committees. It reads like a page from Who Is Who in Science, Invention, Engineering, Literature, Jurisprudence, etc. Any true American should consider it a great honor to belong to an organization that has as its members such prominent personages. They are the hub of our economic and social system. They can't be wrong? If they are wrong then all our civilized institutions are wrong. Therefore, I consider it not only an honor but a privilege to belong to such organizations and I have signed up today to both the CDAA and the FFC.

ONE WHO BELIEVES IN AMERICA.

A DRAFTEE'S MOTOR LICENSES.

Chicago, June 12.—Knowing you to be a champion of right causes, I am appealing to you in the following matter, which perhaps has already been called to your attention.

My son has been called in the draft. He is the owner of an automobile and has purchased his city and state automobile licenses as of Jan. 1, and now is compelled to sell his car because of his draft call. I am informed by both city and state automobile divisions that no provisions have been made for refunding the fee charged for these licenses for the second half of the year.

I don't believe the boys have any fault to find with the call or the business sacrifices necessary in order to respond, but I do feel that a sacrifice of this fee, totally unjustified, is something they need not endure. Inasmuch as in most instances still another fee will be charged for the purchasers of these forced sales by draftees now, and for the entire year at that, isn't it sound logic that refunds should be made to these boys? And would you care to comment or start some action thru your good offices to accomplish this? H. W. B.

AMERICA FIRST; ALWAYS.

West Chicago, Ill., June 14.—We hear much about public sentiment polls, and we wonder what proportion of those counted for war will be asked to offer themselves as a candidate for the supreme sacrifice.

How easy it is to shout for war when you don't have to pay the real price, or when you can sport around the world as a "captain." Real Americans are pretty nearly 100 per cent for self-defense, and against Hitlerism, and all it stands for, but not for trying settling the deep seated quarrels of the old world. We've already had too much of that.

The opposition to world war was as nothing compared with the real and deep seated general antagonism to the present. Should we become propagandized into it, the responsibility will have something to account for. Is it going to require the killing off of another army of our best boys to teach us to keep our balance?

Yes, "AMERICA FIRST"—and always. GEORGE J. BALL.

SINKINGS TO BE EXPECTED.

Chicago, June 13.—Without war having been declared, Mr. Roosevelt said in his report to congress this week: "In the 90 days since the lend-lease act was passed, and in the 74 days since the funds were appropriated, we have started in motion the vast supply program which is essential to the defeat of the axis powers."

If Roosevelt is out to "defeat the axis powers" he can expect his ships to be sunk, but since it is Roosevelt's war and not ours let us not get too excited over the sinking. What good American citizens want now and have wanted since 1934 is a United States prepared and powerful enough to defend itself against all comers if attacked.

EDMUND ARBUTHNOT.

FORECAST THE ROYAL VISIT.

Moline, Ill., June 12.—Apropos of your editorial, The Royal Touch, it is interesting to recall what a keen English observer, Hilaire Belloc, on his last visit to the United States, wrote from New York to his paper, G. K.'s Weekly, in London, under date of June 10, 1937: "It is probable, short of catastrophe, that there will be a state visit paid to the United States by some reigning monarch of England. He [or she] will make a triumphal tour, and the reliance we confidently place on America to come to our support against wicked men will be enormously increased. As it is, English propaganda does almost what it likes with American opinion, and a royal progress of this kind would make our effect as permanent as such things ever are." X.

A TIME TO KEEP COOL.

Chester, N. H., June 12.—The United States was given fair warning that our ships in war zones would be sunk. This warning has been ignored by the administration recently, supposedly hoping for an incident which might turn public opinion to war. Unless American citizens realize this and keep their heads the administration will make the Robin Moor an excuse for the hostilities which it is determined to force upon the country. The people are not as blind as our political servants think and are now awake to the objectives of blood and carnage which our officials long for, hoping thereby for personal world domination.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Chicago, June 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Three years ago I married a young man from whom I separated three weeks later. He has never supported me since and makes no attempt to get a divorce or [2] to effect a reconciliation.

The things I would like to know are: 3. Is there any way by which I can force him to pay for the divorce? He lives here in Chicago and can afford to buy a car.

4. How much should I pay for a divorce?

5. I have been quoted a price of $100 by a prominent lawyer which seems a bit high.

6. How long does it take for a divorce to become final, i.e., how long before I can marry again? L. M.

1. Unless you had legal grounds for leaving him you would not be entitled to a divorce on the grounds stated but if you had legal grounds you would be entitled to a divorce after one year's desertion.

2. If you left him without cause then in general it would be up to you to attempt the reconciliation.

3. In general, the court orders the husband to pay for the court proceedings, but no grounds for divorce are stated in your letter.

4. We cannot advise without having your facts.

5. You can try shopping around.

6. Under Illinois law no delay is required after the decree has been signed.

HOUSE WILL PASS ON HOSPITAL AID IN TRAFFIC CASES

Bill Proposes Road Funds Be Appropriated.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 15.—The house of representatives in the final two weeks of this session, will be asked to approve an appropriation of $450,000 from the state road fund to compensate nonprofit hospitals for their care of indigent victims of automobile accidents. The bill, introduced by Senator Richard Barr [R., Joliet], has been passed by the upper chamber.

Walter A. Rosenfield, director of public works, is opposing the measure, contending that it would threaten a withdrawal of $450,000 of federal highway money from Illinois for the next biennium. In this case, Illinois highway construction would be out a total of $900,000, consisting of $450,000 of gas tax money for the hospitals plus a $450,000 loss of government money.

No Risk, Barr Contends.

Senator Barr, in arguing for his bill, pleaded that the care of accident victims was part of the cost of automobile operation and as such should be paid from motorists' excise taxes. He also contended there would be no risk of losing government road allotments.

The senator and the director of public works differ in their interpretation of the Hayden-Cartwright act of 1935.

Disagree on Interpretation.

Rosenfield believes that "amounts now provided by law" means the license fees and gasoline tax. Barr believes that "amounts" means a number of dollars and that since the collections from these two sources have grown from $47,500,000 in 1935 to $70,000,000 in 1940 there would be no violation of the Hayden-Cartwright act in appropriating $450,000 to the hospitals, even if he is overruled on his point that the care of indigent accident victims is a proper highway maintenance charge.

U.S. Artillery Practice Damages a Dozen Homes

San Pedro, Cal., June 15 (AP).—Coast artillery guns at Fort Mac Arthur were fired last night for the first time in 14 years, and a dozen residents near the post reported concussion damage to their homes. An army spokesman said practice would be continued and army appraisers would be sent out to determine the loss, adding: "We deplore the damage to homes, but it is nothing to compare with the damage one shell fired by an enemy would create."

NEWEST BOMBER HAS SPEED EQUAL TO PURSUIT SHIPS

Deliveries to Britain to Begin in July.

Baltimore, Md., June 15 (AP).—The first test flight of a new bomber being built for Britain showed it to be "about as fast as most of the pursuit planes flying in Europe," the Glenn L. Martin company disclosed today.

The plane was flown yesterday at the Martin field here, with British representatives looking on. It is faster than the B-26, which the Martin company is building for the army, but it has less range and bomb capacity, Joseph T. Hartson, executive vice president of the company, told a group of war correspondents winding up a 3,500 mile tour of defense plants.

The correspondents were shown the new bomber and a huge flying boat under construction for the navy, comparable to the army's B-19, the world's largest bomber. The correspondents were asked by a navy representative to give no details of the flying boat's construction, range, speed, size, or capacity.

Start Delivery Next Month.

"The new plane for Britain is a very hot bomber," Hartson said. "We will start shipping them to Britain in July, but they have plenty of range to fly over. In actual combat we expect them to do better than many of even the latest types of pursuit planes."

The model is known as the Martin 187 and will be called the "Baltimore" by the British. It is a low wing medium bomber with two 1,850 horse power air cooled motors. Hartson declared it to be faster than any bomber now in the air except possibly a few with turbo-superchargers which could outspeed it at very high altitudes. The critical altitude of the 187—the height at which it performs best—is 15,000 feet.

Many Subassemblies on Hand.

Altho the size of the British order and rate of production are secrets, Hartson said that all of a building with 650,000 square feet of floor space eventually will be used in turning out "Baltimore" planes on a mass production basis.

Correspondents saw scores of "Baltimore" fuselage, wing tip, and other subassemblies while going thru the building, which had mostly B-26 bombers at the end of the line. Scattered thru buildings and parking space about the plant were 54 of these army bombers, complete except for a few parts.

"We have been held up somewhat by part supplies," Hartson said, "but it is not serious. With parts being made all over the country, you couldn't expect all of them to get here on time."

In the two weeks' tour arranged by the National Association of Manufacturers, with the coöperation of the army and navy, the reporters saw planes, engines, tanks, guns, submarines, and armor plate in all stages of manufacture.

DAY by DAY on the FARM & BOB BECKER

Saucy New Pet.

June 15, 1941.

EVERYBODY on the Wheaton farm is talking about the pet squirrel. One of the farm women has named this saucy little bushtail Toby, and when she slams the screen door and calls his name the squirrel comes running for his free supply of nuts.

We saw Toby for the first time the other morning, so we can understand why he is getting so much attention. He strikes amusing poses, sits on his hind legs and nibbles peanuts and pecans, shows signs of anger if the farm residents tease him, and in general performs more like a pet dog than a wild squirrel.

Offended by Trick.

One of the men who is well acquainted with this squirrel went with us to visit the pet. After a few clucks and calls Toby came scampering across the lawn. Altho he had nothing to feed this new farm pet he held a wad of grass as a decoy. Toby took the grass, dropped it immediately, and ran back to his tree. When called again Toby merely looked disgusted and went about his business. His actions indicated that he was greatly offended by the trickery.

Toby is a regular furred gourmet about his rations, too. He'll eat freshly shelled peanuts but won't touch salted peanuts. A supply of salted nuts bought for his benefit had to be washed before he would consider them fit for his sophisticated taste.

Altho he's a prime favorite with the farm residents, Toby has a number of winged enemies. The purple martins' headquarters are about 100 yards from the lawn where Toby is the boss. As long as he stays in his own territory the martins don't bother him, but as soon as he comes too close to their elevated houses they dive at him like combat planes swooping at a target. He wandered over near the martin houses the other morning and several of these expert flyers put on an air raid which made him scamper back to his post headquarters in a hurry.

Orphan Robin Returns.

Toby isn't the only wild pet on the farm this season, altho he is by far the most friendly. One of the farm women last spring took care of an orphan robin which became so tame that it would perch on her finger even after it had learned to fly. For several weeks this young bird stayed around the house and came to a certain window to be fed. Before it left the yard it injured its bill in flying against a window, and as a consequence its bill is deformed.

This spring the same robin returned to the yard. Its year of life in the wild has eliminated most of its pet qualities, however. It comes close when one of the farm women whistles to it, but it refuses to perch on the window ledge or eat from a saucer. The farm residents are sure it's the same bird because of its injured bill.

Tens of Thousands of New Jobs in Philadelphia

The murky flare of blast furnaces . . . the deafening obbligato of riveting machines . . . the columns of black, billowing smoke . . . all are signs of the intense industrial activity now rising in a great crescendo in this "Arsenal of America". Already there are more than 60,000 new jobs and more than 3,000,000 new, weekly payroll dollars as Philadelphia goes to work on defense awards exceeding $1,514,000,000 for the District. It is estimated that from 35% to 40% of award totals will go into wages. Sales prospects in Philadelphia are now the best in a decade. Is your 1941 advertising program adequate, here in America's Third Largest Market?

Inquirer is Philadelphia's FIRST Newspaper

Women spend what men earn. So most advertisers are vitally interested in women as customers. The advertising pages of The Inquirer are especially noteworthy because of the great number of advertisements of direct interest to women. The Inquirer leads all other Philadelphia newspapers in department store advertising and in the advertising of women's specialty shops. In total retail advertising—in financial advertising—in classified advertising—in TOTAL advertising—The Inquirer is Philadelphia's FIRST newspaper and greatest selling medium . . . for your product!

Philadelphia Suburbs, Too, Are Important

Don't let anyone tell you that the Philadelphia Market stops at the municipal boundaries. You want city circulation, of course. But is that all you want? For instance, one of the many busy cities in the Philadelphia District—"Arsenal of America"—is:

HATBORO

Hatboro is located 14 miles north of Philadelphia. Principal Industries: Stoves, heaters, hosiery. Here the Brewster Aeronautical Corporation is rushing construction of a $5,000,000 aircraft plant to assemble bombers for the U. S. and for the British fighting forces. In about six months 4,000 men will be at work—and when peak production is reached, 10,000 employees will be needed. Naturally, Hatboro people shop in Philadelphia. They read The Inquirer. And there are many other important places in the metropolitan manufacturing area in which The Inquirer circulates. Chester has $210,844,009 in defense awards; Ardmore, $21,020,594; York, $9,146,096; Reading, $3,035,337—the complete list is a long one. Never before in Philadelphia's history has such a torrent of new business flowed into the mills, shipyards and factories in this District in so short a time.

If You Have Warts, Seek Medical Aid

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

From time to time we receive inquiries about warts. And recently there seems to have been some fear about them. So, we are glad to report on the word of Dr. R. H. Rulison, physician, that warts seldom are serious, and important after effects rarely occur. Dr. Rulison, treating the subject in a well known monthly health publication, says that warts do not lead to cancer; that unless they are on the sole of the foot, or over a knuckle, they hardly are more than a nuisance. But Dr. Rulison does say that altho warts do not lead to cancer, sometimes cancer of the skin is mistaken for a wart, so that valuable time may be lost because of this faulty disagnosis.

Discussion of cancer, however, is not the province of this department. If there is any worry whatever over this blemish, one should make haste to have one's fear allayed by a physician.

* THRU THE * LOOKING GLASS

One of the best powder foundations we have ever found for the older woman is, of all things, a preparation originally created for those glamor gals out in Hollywood! But the older woman shouldn't be scared off by this faintly lurid background because it really is a find for her.

It's a paste cake, thick and heavy in the shallow pancake container. To apply it you moisten a sponge, rub it over the cake and then apply to the face and neck. When this moist coat sets a little bit you blend it evenly with the fingers.

It's been said of many foundations that they conceal faint blemishes and camouflage tiny lines. That's not always true, but it's perfectly true of this unique makeup. It has the most flattering, softening effect on the skin—and that's exactly what the older woman needs. You're not conscious that it's on, and the skin doesn't look made up, but it actually gives it the nicest kind of a finish. You use rouge over it—the dry variety.

One thing the older woman should avoid like the plague is the powdered look. Too much powder, in too light a shade, makes her face look like an enameled mask. With this makeup, it may be that you won't need to use powder at all—it alone gives a velvety finish. Or you can use only a minimum. The makeup comes in any number of good shades.

Fiance Must Offer a Bride Home of Own

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"All I asked her to do was to live at my mother's house. Now she balks about setting the date until I decide we can rent an apartment where we'll be definitely by ourselves.

"She's the grandest girl in the world, and deserves the best. Believe me, I intend to get it for her if I possibly can. But there's my 'Mom' to be considered.

"If ever a man is obligated to his mother, then surely he is doubly so when it comes to a foster mother who has been better to him than she could have been were I her own. Widowed, and quite on in years, I've been the man in the house, and she depends on me. . . .

"Maybe my girl is right, and I'm being selfish. But it's hard to decide what is right, knowing I owe so much to my mother for all she's done for me, and at the same time willing to acknowledge I owe my fiancée just as much. Please advise.—JIM."

Your girl is right. Don't marry her, Jim, unless you can have a home of your own. It wouldn't be fair to either woman to make them live together.

If you're good to your foster mother, you will surely be good to your wife. Just because you marry is no reason why you can't continue to be a good son. Your wife, if she is the right kind of girl, will understand, and try to help you. Readjustment will take time, but it can be done, with intelligence and understanding.

Marriage Told

MRS. JAY TRUDE KERN.

The marriage of the former R. Melville Wild to Jay Trude Kern last fall is being announced by her mother, Mrs. Joseph Morton Wild of Blackstone avenue. Mr. Kern and his bride are delaying their wedding trip until next month, when they will go fishing in Canada. Mr. Kern, the son of Mrs. Jacob J. Kern and of the late State's Attorney Kern, is an assistant corporation counsel. Both he and his bride are third generation Chicagoans.

Youth Hostelers Find Adventure Even in Drizzle

Thirty American Youth hostelers of the Chicago area kept an appointment with adventure over the weekend, despite sporadic showers and drooping skies. Among them were doctors, telephone operators, teachers, stenographers, Girl Scouts, housewives, and librarians—adventurers all.

Seventeen of them, outfitted with bicycles, raincoats, hostel passes, and knapsacks, trooped to the American Youth hostel on the Methodist camp grounds near Des Plaines Saturday afternoon. They went for a 22 mile bicycle ride down country lanes and highways to Dundee, where they stayed overnight in a homelike hostel in the center of town.

Among them were the George Drakes of Park Ridge and their two daughters, Diana, 13 years, and Alice Ann, 9. They were training for a bicycle trip to the Ozarks this summer. A comely switchboard operator who had never been on a hostel trip before came without a raincoat. When she pedaled out of the camp grounds, she wore the big raincoat of a fellow hosteler whom she had just met.

A second group of 13 hostelers from Waukegan spent a gay weekend creating a hostel. They scrubbed, painted, and repaired two old abandoned buildings provided by Camp Aurora-Ayre Park near Lake Geneva, Wis. They called it a work holiday. A dusty old carriage house, which is destined to become a girls' dormitory, was scrubbed until its walnut walls glistened. A ramshackle blacksmith shop took on the look of a boys' bunkhouse. Its windows were puttied, its roof fixed, and its faded red face renewed.

While the work crew hammered and pounded, another group prepared a succulent baked ham, fruit salad, sandwiches, baked potatoes, ice tea, and cookies in a nearby farmhouse. Hostelers never go hungry.

Any adventurous person between the ages of 4 and 94 who is willing to take to the trails, the bypaths, the slopes, and the streams under his or her "own steam"—by bicycle, horseback, canoe, skis, or on foot—may become a hosteler. And for his efforts, he is rewarded by a panorama of shimmering rivers, country skies, verdant landscapes, stately trees, and good fellowship—and at the end of a day's travel a hearty meal and a comfortable hostel bed at a cost of less than 50 cents. The cost of a year's pass to the hostel movement's nation-wide chain of camps, or hostels, is $1 for a person under 21, and $2 for those above 21.

Begun years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Smith, Scout executives of Rochester, N. Y., the American Youth Hostel system opened its first house in Northfield, Mass. Last year 243 hostels had been established thruout the country, 64 of them in the Great Lakes region under the direction of Justin Cline, 411 North Taylor street, Oak Park.

Hostels are farmhouses and camps, approximately 15 miles apart, where travelers stay overnight for 25 cents apiece. Each hostel is chaperoned by volunteer house parents appointed by district committees. Hostelers buy their own food, and when they camp in groups, they share expenses.

But hosteling need not be a group project, Cline said yesterday. For those who wish to discover new trails and new places alone, hostel house parents are considerate hosts. They will furnish helpful information and maps, leave you to your own devices, and wave you cheerily on your way to whatever high adventure you seek.

'Music Under Stars' Inspires Dreamy Styles

BY REA SEEGER.

It takes something as romantic as "music under the trees and stars" to bring out flattering feminine fashions! A recent fashion showing of expertly selected costumes to wear, whether you listen at night under a full moon or take your music in the afternoon al fresco, featured most unusual ideas. Pastel tinted, soft, woolen, long coats, with a dainty printed silk dress . . . these for afternoon! A luscious raspberry red silk finished gingham suit with a bunch of violets or bachelor buttons pinned high on the shoulder, or a stunning white printed silk dress with a thin, dull black etching design teamed with an eye catching crimson wool coat . . . last, and very smart, the tailored cotton dress of pale blue under a yellow coat.

Afternoon dresses of prints with large flower patterns are ideal Ravinia costumes, if they are worn with dark gloves and a dark hat. Dress suits get plenty of attention if they are of the tritone combines such as one beauty of snowy white with accents of navy blue with a narrow red band. One piece dresses feature this two and three tone combination with effective dramatics.

The evening gowns were exceptionally well selected for airy summer night charm and flattery. One dull black gown of filmy, slightly crisp mousseline de soie has long sleeves gathered into narrow band cuffs to accent the very wide fluttering skirt. Along the top of the underslip is a shimmering band of shell pink satin tied in a bow, more than visible thru the black.

A knockout evening gown for a very young figure is of navy blue cotton, with a 20 inch flounce of white piqué, short sleeves with bands of white piqué and spankling white short gloves. A sleek white model stresses the liquid grace of clinging jersey with gold buttons and a belt in a shirtwaist design.

Vivid pink gloves and belt, worn with a beautiful aquamarine gown, almost stole the show, with a pale chartreuse crêpe coming along in second place; violet colored gloves made this chartreuse model a heart-breaker.

'I Give You—'

President Roosevelt, on October 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act.

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong, that by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

"The purpose of our defense is defense."

Swans.

The Walter S. Brewsters have had a pair of swans on their Lake Forest estate, Covin Tree, for some 15 years, and about two weeks ago one of them was found dead, its head under water. Cause of death unknown. There was, however, little personal regret on the part of its owners. Swans are not affectionate pets. In spite of being fed and looked after, of having a summer pond of their own and warm quarters and food in bitter weather, there was no appreciative response on the part of the swans.

"Every time we came out of the house they swam to the side of the pond toward us," said Mr. Brewster.

"Well, doesn't that indicate they like human contact?" we, the animal and bird lover, inquired.

"No," answered Mr. Brewster, "It was their way of saying: 'This is our pond and you stay away from it.'"

Troth Doubly Links McNultys and Bouscarens

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO engagement announcements are of special interest this morning. At a family dinner at home in Winnetka on Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. G. Bouscaren announced the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn, to J. Munroe McNulty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. McNulty of Chicago.

With their marriage in July or August, the McNulty and Bouscaren families will be doubly tied together, for the McNultys' daughter, Kathrine, is the wife of one of the Bouscarens' sons, Henri Bouscaren. They and their little daughter are living in Dallas, Tex., now.

Miss Bouscaren attended the North Shore Country Day school and the Convent of the Holy Child in Rome, Italy. She is a member of the Chicago Junior league, and made her debut several years ago. Lieut. McNulty, who is stationed in Philadelphia with the United States army, is a graduate of Yale university. He prepared at the Choate school.

Henry Kramer Engaged to Shaker Heights Girl.

Every one who remembers the tall, pretty girl Henry Kramer escorted in the last Easter parade or who met her while she was here with his parents, the Le Roy Kramers, will be interested in learning that they are to be married. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Proudfit Bunyan of Shaker Heights, O., today are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to one of the Kramers' two sons. The other is Le Roy Jr.

Miss Bunyan is a graduate of the Hathaway-Brown school and finished at Connecticut college this month. Mr. Kramer attended the Chicago Latin school, the Lawrenceville school, and was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale university last year. He recently was commissioned an ensign in the United States naval reserve.

Dorothy Brown Engaged to Ensign from Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Brown of Winnetka have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Ensign Alfred A. Snowball, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cuthbert Snowball of Niles, O.

Miss Brown is a graduate of North Shore Country Day school and of Bradford Junior college. Ensign Snowball is a graduate of Amherst college. He recently received his commission in the naval reserve and has been ordered to active duty.

No date has been set for the wedding.

New Mexico's arroyos and Indian kivas will be familiar sights to Miss Jane Darrow after this summer, for she will be stationed near Silver City, N. M., until the middle of September with the Field Museum of Natural History's archæological expedition. Mrs. Theodore Butz's daughter left last week for the west, going first to California to attend the graduation from Scripps college of her stepsister, Miss Jean Allen Butz.

Mrs. Butz, too, will have a new address for the summer, as she leaves next Monday to take a house in Madison, Wis., and to enroll in the University of Wisconsin's summer session. Her two sons, William and Jack Darrow, arrived this week-end from the Harvard law school and the Asheville school, and they'll be spending much of the summer with their mother.

Rose Chatfield Taylor a Bride

MRS. FRANK GOODNOW MacMURRAY.

Rose Chatfield Taylor became the bride of Frank Goodnow MacMurray in Washington, D. C., last Saturday. The bride is a daughter of Undersecretary of Commerce and Mrs. Wayne Chatfield Taylor of Washington and Chicago. The bridegroom is a son of John Van Antwerp MacMurray, American ambassador to Turkey, and Mrs. MacMurray, whose home city is Baltimore, Md. The bride's princess gown of ivory faille was trimmed with bunches of orange blossoms caught at the sleeves and in the skirt. Her unusual headdress consisted of an heirloom lace cap trimmed with orange blossoms and ivy leaves, which also formed her bouquet. Mr. MacMurray and his bride will have a honeymoon in Bermuda and will be at home in Boston next fall when he continues his studies in the medical school of Harvard university.

No Parties to Precede Clark-Fetridge Wedding.

Since Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark is recovering from a serious illness, there'll be no parties or bridal dinner preceding her marriage to William H. Fetridge. They'll be married quietly on June 27 at Rainbow farm, the Barrington home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Clark. The Rev. Philip J. Hayes of St. Anne's church, Barrington, will perform the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Clark probably will be unattended. Henry Anderson is coming from Wausau, Wis., to be best man. The bride's brother, Carrington Clark, and Leland Brown of New York will usher. After a two-week wedding trip Mr. Fetridge, who is the son of Mathew Fetridge of Evanston, and his bride will be at home on the near north side.

James P. Gillies Jr. Takes Bride in East Friday.

Instead of being married in the fall, James P. Gillies, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillies of Rye, N. Y., formerly of Winnetka, and Miss Aline Cornwall will be married next Friday. He expects to be called to the navy soon. The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Cornwall of Fairfield, Conn. Dwight Thompson of Cincinnati, O., will be best man, and several of Mr. Gillies' Yale classmates who live in the east will usher, as will Lawrence Cornwall, Jr.

Mrs. Louis Johnson of Atlanta, who is a cousin of Mrs. John T. Llewellyn, II., Ruth Gillies, a subdeb, and the bride's sisters, Elizabeth and Marian, will be among the feminine attendants. Mr. Gillies has another sister, Mrs. Wallace D. Mackenzie of Winnetka, who will not be going east for the ceremony, however. Instead of a bridal dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall will give a clambake on the eve of the wedding. Mr. Gillies and his bride have taken a tiny house in Deerfield, Conn.

Miss Sara Leigh Symons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Symons of River Forest, and Robert Brandt,

Good Morning!

KIND—Follow-up on "Boys Town."

ACTING—Excellent. Spencer Tracy again makes Father Flanagan a strong and lovable character—tho terribly hampered by the script. Mickey Rooney comes thru sincerely as the priest's right hand. Other rôles are, in the main, well played.

STORY — There's the rub. It's soppy. So palpable a would be tear jerker that it makes you mad. . . . I think the "Boys' Town" series should stop right here.

DIRECTION — Better than the story.

DIALOG—Spotty.

SETS, SCENERY, PHOTOGRAPHY, ETC.—Okey.

AUDIENCE APPEAL—You tell me.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Cal., June 15—Sunday—In Yosemite National park with the David Hempsteads. Dave has been feeling low, for he has story problems on his forthcoming "Joan of Paris," but he chirks up in this place, as who wouldn't. Yosemite is a melodrama all by itself, and should be a help to any producer.

Monday—The Hays office has handed Republic a headache. Republic has prepared a film, "King of the Texas Rangers," for Sammy Baugh, the pro football star. It's about how Sammy kills a bunch of baddies who have murdered his pa. Well, the Hays office says Sammy can't do any such thing. One of the rules says that a modern story can't be motivated by revenge. So they've got to revise the script and have Baugh do all his killin' from pure motives as an officer of the law.

Tuesday—In the evening to see 20th-Century Fox's "Man Hunt." Here's a Hollywood thriller about spies and Hitler which is a dilly. Walter Pidgeon, British big game hunter, makes a sporting stalk on the biggest game of all—Der Fuehrer. Takes a bead on him with his elephant gun and snaps the hammer on an empty chamber. Adolf's boys catch him at it and Walter has fearful trouble. They even chase him to England after he escapes and try to do him in there. Joan Bennett is not at all good as a Cockney girl, but she isn't bad enough to spoil things and Pidgeon and George Sanders [a nasty Nazi] are fine.

Wednesday—To the Warner plant, where Humphrey Bogart, Gladys George, Lee Patrick, and others are doing John Huston's remake of the Dash Hammett detective yarn, "The Maltese Falcon." . . . Oddments picked up during the day: Pat O'Brien, the toughie, goes to Del Mar by train because he gets sick in an automobile. . . . Republic's Dick Tracy serial, according to a letter from Dick himself, will be the fourth, not the third. . . . In the evening to a neighborhood movie house to catch Bette Davis' "The Great Life" and "Topper Returns." The Davis flicker is all right—but why so pompous a title? "Betty Davis Becomes a Father" would have been a more interesting one.

Thursday—To Paramount, to watch C. B. De Mille direct a technicolor fight aboard a sponge boat for "Reap the Wild Wind." And does he direct! He even directs the stills after the scene. He's wearing the leather puttees and a white eyeshade, and a stooge follows him with a microphone on a vacuum cleaner cord. Fight is between Paulette Goddard, John Wayne, and Ray Milland, on one side, and some awful men on the other, including two professional wrestlers. The wrestlers get licked. De Mille bawls Miss Goddard out, thru the mike, a few times. . . . Later he tells me he started using a double for Milland in the scrap, which has taken days, until he discovered that Ray was using his fists right well. Then he learned that Milland was a boxer in the British army, so he tossed out the double and started all over again.

Friday—A bit of collecting here and there, and paying out on the golf course.

Saturday—A day's work, interrupted by a noonday showing of Harry Carey's "The Shepherd of the Hills," which is no work but a pleasure to see.

...but have you met
Roslyn?
No, not a girl! A fashion idea—by Foster. And it's just as lovable and adorable as your best friend!

SYNOPSIS.

On her own for the last four years, 22 year old Celia Ames has no one to whom she can turn when she loses her job. She has fallen in love with Val Quentin, a fellow boarder whom she realizes is selfish, and she has begun to doubt his worthiness. He borrows money from her and, tho she feels that they are practically engaged, she does not feel like going to him for help now. She wonders if she could pawn some jewelry, her only legacy from her mother. While she is walking an old lady's dogs in the park she runs into Felicity Stanmore, a schoolmate, four years younger than Celia, whom Celia mothered in convent days. Felicity, whose mother is dead and whose father is a rich engineer, invites Celia to her home for the week-end. Celia accepts and goes home to get her jewelry to pawn, and finds it has been stolen. She tells Val about the theft and, tho he sympathizes with her, he wants to borrow more money from her. She refuses and leaves for the Stanmores without telling him where she is going. Felicity confides to Celia that she is in love, but that her father objects to the romance altho her Auntie May Allison approves. As Celia enters the drawing room with Felicity's handsome, young looking father, she sees Val Quentin, and Felicity whispers that he is the man with whom she is in love. Val pretends not to know Celia, but Celia refuses to admit they are strangers.

PAWNED JEWELRY.

INSTALMENT VII.

It was on Sunday afternoon that Celia Ames faced Monday and made plans.

The day had been quite pleasant. It was warm and springlike, which can happen in February, and Martin Stanmore motored them into the country for his weekly game of golf.

Yes, Sandy Maclaren came too, and with Felicity and Miss Allison they made a foursome. Miss Allison looked more like herself in golfing rig.

Celia walked around with them part of the way and then sat on a bench under a naked tree and let the sun soak into her. Tomorrow she would have plenty of walking and it would be well to save oneself for it. She did not want to think; she could formulate no plans. She only knew that tomorrow it would all begin again—the searching of the meager Help Wanted advertisments, the toiling up and down the agents' stairs, the rumors of marvelous jobs that one chased like the chimeras they proved to be.

And then, quite suddenly, Celia knew that it must really begin tonight. She must make an early start in the morning if the day was to be any use to her at all, and, strange as it may seem, she found herself homesick for Alanbrook and her attic with its familiar walls and scarred furniture.

She said nothing until they were back to Leighton house and having tea before the log fire in the spacious room which had been the painter's studio and was now the Stanmores' living room. They didn't want her to go; even Auntie May was nicely regrettul and Felicity started to howl the place down.

But Martin Stanmore said, no—Celia knew best what she had to do. She had been obliged to let them know something of her purpose. He said he understood, and "business was business." He forestalled Felicity by saying that he wanted to look in at his club and would drive Celia home himself.

He was so impersonal about it that Celia felt grateful to the point of tears. One word of sympathy and she would have burst.

Even when he carried her suitcase into the hall, all he said was: "We'll be seeing you again before long, I hope."

She had been afraid he had divined the extent of her necessities and would offer her money, in which case she knew she wouldn't have had the strength of mind to refuse. At least he had helped her to preserve a shred of self-respect.

Celia felt as tho she had returned from some far country on a journey that had taken months, at least.

They had only finished tea at Alanbrook. There was still a smell of crumpets in the air. As usual on a Sunday afternoon the place wore an untidy, desolate air. People were out or going out. Newspapers littered the back lounge, where only old Mrs. Maxton reposed, asleep in the padded armchair that was recognized to be hers by right of custom.

Celia looked in and went out again, faintly repelled by the rusty shabbiness and the sight of Mrs. Maxton. She hoped her brief sojourn in the lap of luxury was not going to unfit her for ordinary life.

And then Miss Best peered out of the office and called her.

"O, is that you, Miss Ames? Could you spare a moment, please? I thought you weren't coming back until tomorrow."

If it were possible, Celia's heart sank a little lower. It felt like the veriest lump of lead.

"Certainly, Miss Best," she replied.

She would have to find that money—find that money—find that money; or at least make the wildest and most far fetched promises. But Mr. Parker was rather a kind man. People even said he wasn't a very good business man, and had to get Miss Best to do his devilling for him because he was too easy going. Surely he would wait another week . . . if she went down on her knees to him?

"I'm afraid I've got some rather unpleasant news for you," Miss Best said grimly. She gave a sharp little cough. "Come into the office, please. We'd better close the door."

Celia followed her and sank limply into the spare chair.

Miss Best was rattling keys and unlocking a drawer of her desk.

"I took a liberty," she said, "after thinking over what you told me."

Celia rubbed the palms of her hands with her handkerchief and then mopped a dew of moisture from her lips.

"What was it, exactly . . . I told you?" she murmured.

"About some jewelry having been stolen from your room."

O, it was that. A sense of relief flooded Celia, amounting almost to nausea.

And then Miss Best, veiling an air of triumph, thrust forward pink slips of paper for her inspection. There were three of them, pawnbroker's tickets for a gold wedding ring, a gold hunting case watch, and a turquoise and gold nugget necklace.

"I found these in a drawer of the desk in Mr. Quentin's sitting room," said the manageress. "You will see his name and the dates on them. You underestimated their value, Miss Ames. Mr. Quentin, apparently, was able to realize 14 pounds 16 shillings on your property."

Celia sat up with a gasp as tho a ramrod had been shot down her spine, and her face went as pale as death.

"I'm sorry if it's a shock to you," sniffed Miss Best, "but I can't say it is to me."

There were times, and this was one of them, when Celia Ames longed for a sympathetic bosom on which to pillow her head and weep. Miss Best did not possess a bosom. She hollowed in where she should have billowed, and if she had any sympathy it was cautiously bottled up.

"What do you propose to do?" she asked, adding hopefully: "You could take out a warrant for Mr. Quentin's arrest, you know."

Celia put the pawnbroker's tickets into her handbag. This was between her and Val. It didn't really concern anybody else. She got up slowly, wondering at the weakness of her legs, and fixed her glance at a point on the wall about a foot over Miss Best's head.

"I expect I forgot that I gave these things to him to pawn for me," she said, a queer little croak in her voice.

Miss Best perhaps expected this gentlemanly lie, altho she might have wished it had been told with more conviction.

She changed the subject with brisk violence.

"I spoke to Mr. Parker and he says next week will do for the money you owe us. But I don't think we ought to let it run much longer than that, Miss Ames. We ought to have something one account, at least."

"Thank you," Celia murmured gratefully.

She was blinded by a sudden rush of tears. The chair got in her way when she turned to go and she stumbled heavily against it.

"If it isn't taking too much of a liberty," Miss Best added, "I could let you have a pound or two, until you get on your feet. I wouldn't mind even settling for you with Mr. Parker, if I could be sure it wasn't mentioned."

Speaking of liberties—would it be taking one to kiss Miss Best?

"I—I don't know how to thank you—but I hope it won't be necessary," Celia gasped.

She couldn't fight those tears another second. They overwhelmed her. Miss Best coughed.

"I'm sorry if I upset you. I didn't mean to. And I still think you're making a mistake about Mr. Quentin."

Celia nodded.

"Yes—yes, I know I am," she replied, and floundered out of the office.

In the hall she knocked against her suitcase and picking it up made a bee-line for the stairs, praying for one thing only—that she wouldn't meet anybody.

Refrigerator desserts are one of the few cookery ideas which may make any claim to being new.

"Thirty-three Refrigerator Cakes," [5 cents in stamps, by mail] is a mimeographed booklet which will please any hostess who likes this popular and easy-to-prepare dessert. The following recipe isn't from the booklet, altho similar ones are there.

French Chocolate Icebox Cake.
[Serves 12 to 16.]

½ cup butter
1 cup confectioners' sugar [sifted]
3 eggs, separated
4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 8-inch sponge cake layers
¼ cup slivered toasted almonds

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time. Add chocolate and vanilla. Beat until smooth. Then fold and beat in stiffly beaten egg whites, until blended.

Carefully split the cooled cake layers crosswise, making four thin layers from the two cakes. Put together with filling and cover tops and sides with filling. Sprinkle top with almonds. Chill for several hours, or over night.

Sponge Cake.
[Two 8 inch layers.]

1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Line bottoms of two 8 inch round layer pans with ungreased wrapping paper and have the oven preheated to 375 degrees. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until very light, and beat in sugar gradually. Beat in water and vanilla. Add flour mixture all at once, and beat with rotary beater until just smooth and well blended, no longer. Pour into pans and bake for 20 minutes. Cake is done when top surface springs back when touched lightly with the fingertip. Loosen baked layers from the edges and turn out onto cake racks. Remove paper and cool the layers.

Match-point duplicate is the best error-detector I know. When the cards, the condition of vulnerability, and even the contracts are identical at different tables, comparison of play becomes truly significant. Let us consider the following hand, taken from a recent duplicate.

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

At some tables the opening lead was a club, and declarer's problem was made easy, since the diamonds were established before the opponents could collect enough tricks in hearts or spades.

At four tables West chose to open the heart deuce. In every case, dummy played the seven, East the queen, and declarer won with the ace. Declarer's first play always was a diamond to the queen. At three tables East won, and blindly returned partner's opening lead, laying down the heart king and following with the three. Declarer won with the 10, and cleared the diamond suit. The defenders then could take only the fourth heart, and declarer had nine cold tricks.

At the one table where East used his brain, the play differed sharply at the third trick. This East had made the proper deduction from declarer's play at the first trick. Declarer had played low from dummy and had taken the queen with the ace. This, East realized, had absolutely marked declarer with the 10 spot! The reason? Because any good player in South's seat, holding the ace of hearts and one or two others without the 10, would have put up dummy's jack in the hope that the opening lead was away from the king-queen. There would be nothing to lose by such a play, and much to gain.

Having located declarer with a second heart stopper, which meant that East-West could take only two heart tricks, this East looked to another field for a trick to eke out his two reasonably sure diamond tricks. Therefore, after winning with the diamond ace, East did not return a heart, but shifted to a spade. Declarer now was helpless, since the diamond suit was not yet established. He finessed and lost to West's king. West returned a heart and now East, with a spade trick safely under his belt, and not daring to risk another spade lead, cleared the heart suit by driving out the 10. When he got in with his second diamond stopper, the nine of hearts accounted for the defeat of the contract.

Universal Day—A clean slate to start with. What will you do with the next nine days?

Vacations—Those in a four year this year may not have much time for vacation this year for this is a working year. You can plan a quiet one, tho, if you can manage it and get plenty of rest to conserve your energy for the work still ahead to do. This is a good year to plan a practical vacation. Combine business with pleasure and be careful of the budget. This isn't the year to spend a great deal either on clothes or on railroad fares. Keep in mind the practical issues always. If you do go away plan every detail and follow it if possible. You won't get much out of a carelessly planned vacation this year. Everything must be orderly and carried out efficiently. Count the cost, plan the days well, and see how you can fit in your wardrobe and your pleasures so you don't have to dip into your savings.

Crocheted Pilot's Wheel

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The medallions of the pilot's wheel design shown today are crocheted separately and, when joined, create a tablecloth of exquisite beauty. Make this cover for your table and be prepared for any and all types of entertaining. Started now, a tablecloth of this sort would be completed when an occasion demanding a gift arrives.

For instructions in crocheting the pilot's wheel design tablecloth, No. 334, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue New York City.

The Stage

"Hellzapoppin" moved to the Erlanger theater last night, with the result that every detail of the rowdy, raucous show seemed a dozen times funnier than it had in the sober vastness of the Auditorium. Billy House, Eddie Garr, and their endless supply of stooges were hilariously, and at times shockingly, close to the audience in a theater of suitable intimacy. Countless additional decibels of noise were achieved; the pace of the performance was faster and more disarming; every word was intelligible; the settings looked large enough for the stage, and in general "Hellzapoppin" in Chicago became for the first time as hilarious as it has always been in New York.

Two new acts, neither of earth-shaking consequence, were incorporated into the performance to replace the departed Murtah sisters and Readinger twins. The Reed sisters, a vocal trio, served their limited purpose adequately, tho they could do with a little more amplification. The Sterner sisters took over the Readingers' dance duos without as yet attaining the superb precision of their predecessors.

The other acts were improved by a closer relation of the audience to the stage. In particular the execruciating burlesque adagio dance of Grace and Nikko projected with much more hilarity.

600 Men and Women Admitted to Third Order of St. Francis

More than 600 men and women were invested with the scapular and cord of the Third Order of St. Francis, a Catholic lay organization, at a tertiary rally yesterday afternoon in Holy Name cathedral. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Morrison, rector of the cathedral, presided.

The Very Rev. Thomas Grassman, O. M. C., of Fonda, N. Y., chairman of the national executive board of the order, preached the sermon. Father Grassman said the order was formed to carry out the principles of Rerum Novarum, the 50 year old encyclical of Pope Leo XIII., which was the forerunner of Catholic Action.

"The Third Order must be a peace loving organization, seeking that which Christ brought to earth and which St. Francis taught both by example and precept," said Father Grassman.

WASHINGTON VARSITY BEATS WISCONSIN EIGHT

CUBS SPLIT, BUY DAHLGREN; SOX LOSE TWO, 8-6, 6-4

PASSEAU WHIPS PHILS, 6-0; THEY ROUT ROOT, 8-4

Make Eight Runs in Sixth Inning.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs, after Claude Passeau had presided over a 6 to 0 shutout of Tom [One-Hit] Hughes and the Phillies in the first game of a double header yesterday, were all set to rise to the .500 mark for the first time since April 25 by beating Johnny Podgajny in the second game. The urge became a passion when the Phillies, also shut out Saturday, continued scoreless in the series thru the fifth inning, a total of 23 blank innings since they came to town.

But, alas, they reckoned without the sixth. And what an inning—six runs off Charley Root and two off Larry French, for an eventual 8 to 4 Philly victory!

Claude Breezes Along.

Passeau's victory in the first game was his sixth of the year against five defeats. The Claude was slapped for nine singles, walked three and had one error behind him, he never seemed in danger of losing his first shutout of the season. Only two Philly runners got as far as third, each with two out.

The Cubs made the same number of hits as the Phils and only one, a double by Dom Dallessandro, was an extra baser. Also three of the Cub hits were scratchy. But the first four Cub batsmen singled off Hughes and a total of three runs, three times as many as needed, bloomed from the opening salvo. The Cubs made one run off Frank Hoerst in three innings and none off Frank Melton in two.

Litwhiler Likes Cubs.

When the big explosion came in the second game, the Cubs were leading, 1 to 0, as a result of a triple by Bob Sturgeon and a single by Dallessandro at the start of the fourth. Dan Litwhiler started the big sixth with a single off Root and finished the productive phase of the same inning with a two run homer off French. It was Litwhiler's third homer off French, his fifth off Cub pitchers and his eighth of the season.

The Cubs came out of their coma long enough to score three runs in the seventh, but the most they could muster in the remaining two innings was a scratch single by Dallessandro with two out in the ninth.

FIRST GAME

Any ideas Hughes may have had about repeating or approximating his magnificent performance of June 3, when he held the Cubs to one hit disappeared almost immediately in the first game. Hack opened with a single to deep short and was waved on to second when Bragan threw into the Philly dugout. Sturgeon beat out

Babe Dahlgren, Ex-Yankee, Will Join Cubs Today

Babe Dahlgren.

Babe Dahlgren, successor to the late Lou Gehrig as the New York Yankees' regular first baseman, but sold to the Boston Braves in a surprise deal this spring, will join the Cubs this morning. His purchase from the Braves was announced after yesterday's Cub-Philly double header by General Manager James Gallagher of the Cubs. Yesterday was Dahlgren's 29th birthday.

According to the last semi-official averages, Dahlgren has played in 42 games for the Braves. Tho he has a batting average of only .227, he has driven in 29 runs and his 36 hits have included six homers, eight doubles, and one triple.

Dahlgren's first major league experience was with the Boston Red Sox in 1935. He played in 149 games and batted .263. He was with Syracuse the following season, but returned to the Red Sox in time to play in 16 games. He was with the Newark Bears as a first baseman and a third baseman in 1937 and finished the season with the Yankees, appearing once as a pinch batter.

Babe was a utility infielder for the Yankees in 1938, before Gehrig's health failed. As the regular Yank first baseman in 1939, he appeared in 144 games and batted .235, knocking 16 homers, and driving in 89 runs. He batted .214 in the world series in 1939. Last year he appeared in 155 games for the Yankees. His average was .264, he made 12 homers and batted in 73 runs.

BOSTON THUMPS LYONS SOON AS SOX ROUT GROVE

Appling's Error Leads to Ross' Setback.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., June 15.—A double trimming was heaped on the White Sox again today, the perpetrators thereof being the same Red Sox who gave the Chicagoans both barrels a week ago. First old Ted Lyons fell with a resounding thud, 8 to 6, before 34,500, whereupon Lee [Buck] Ross, an ex-Athletic, made his first starting assignment for Manager James Dykes. The tall young man didn't do badly until Luke Appling knocked the bottom out of the struggle with a sixth inning error. The game finally was lost, 6 to 4.

The 40 year old Lyons, matched for the second time in eight days against the 41 year old Bob Grove, enjoyed neither cunning nor luck in the first contest. Grove went out in the fourth, hurried on his way by a blast that netted five runs, enough to wipe out Lyons' early shakiness and place him in custody of a 6 to 5 lead. Lyons stuck to the finish, but a decisive inning, also the sixth, made him surrender the decision to Rescuer Mike Ryba.

A Good Start Is Wasted.

The White Sox started off well enough against Heber [Dick] Newsome in the second game. A first inning run followed by Taft Wright's third homer in the next session fixed Ross with a fair lead. But he lost half of it immediately on a homer by Bobby Doerr. Ross then kept his 2 to 1 lead intact until, with one out in the sixth, the annoying Ted Williams uncorked his 12th homer of the season to tie the score. Appling erred on the next batter, two more runs went in and what happened in the following inning was just extra punishment.

Thru both games the Chicagoans' old weakness was painfully evident. Except for their cluster of five hits off Grove and Ryba in the fourth inning of the first game, their safe shots were so widely scattered as to be of little value. They had nine runners stranded in that game, two of whom opened the ninth with singles. In the other game, seven men died on bases.

FIRST GAME

The five hit shower which threw Lyons for a three run loss in the opening inning of the first game began with a double by Finney with one out. Williams chased him home on a single. Cronin was set down, but Foxx singled to left and Tabor beat out a high bounder, filling the bases. Lodigiani knocked down Doerr's drive, holding it to a single, which Appling recovered and threw back to Lodigiani to nip Tabor going into

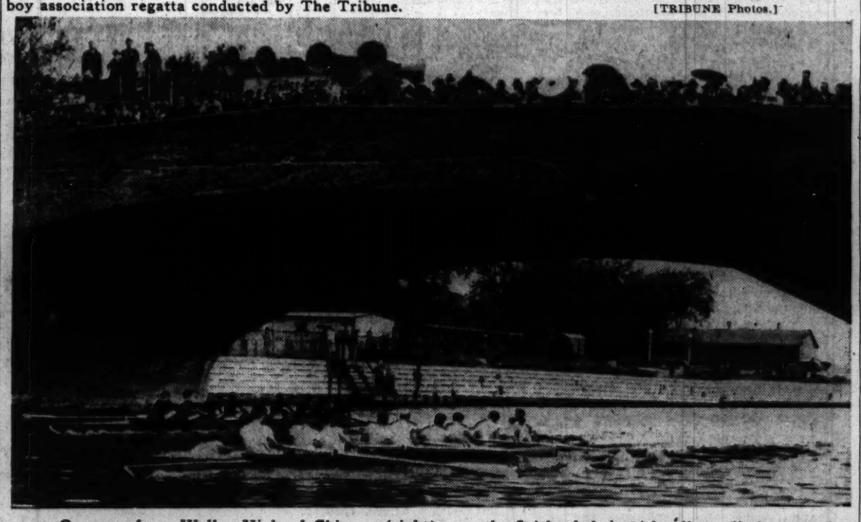
National Champions Row True to Form

The University of Washington's senior eight-oared crew (right), which defends its national title on the Hudson river June 25, finishes half a length in front of the University of Wisconsin varsity in their one mile exhibition on the Lincoln park lagoon yesterday. Their race featured the Central States Schoolboy association regatta conducted by The Tribune. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



Oarsmen from Waller High of Chicago (right) near the finish of their 5/16th mile preliminary senior division victory over Grosse Point, Mich., in the Central States Schoolboy eliminations, also on the Lincoln park lagoon. In the final, Ecorse, Mich., High school beat the Waller seniors by two lengths.

Joe Louis Performs, but He's Disappointing to 1,500 Fans

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Greenwood Lake, N. Y., June 15.—Fifteen hundred Joe Louis fans overran this quiet mountain lake resort this afternoon to pay tribute to the champion in his penultimate ring drill for his title defense against Billy Conn in the Polo Grounds Wednesday night.

Two hours before Louis appeared all parking in the too small space along highway 17-A in front of Joe Murchio's camp had been taken and not even the personal supervision of Julian Black, co-manager of the champion with John Roxborough, could relieve the congestion.

And then it rained.

The fans jammed the restaurant and bar. Then came a game of follow the champion. The sun broke thru the clouds and Louis went to the open air arena. The mob milled after him. It rained and half the throng crowded into the stuffy indoor gym. Again the sun shone and at 3:30 the throng migrated a second time to the lakeside ring.

The Goal? Dollars.

This shuffle board contest was dictated by the natural desire to get as many dollar admissions as possible. It was complicated by the subterfuge under which the dollars were collected.

Yesterday Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York boxing commission, verbally notified Roxborough that the law which prohibits sale of tickets for a boxing contest on the Sabbath must be observed. Altho this is the fifth time Louis has made Greenwood lake his headquarters, no one before had called attention to the violation.

Programs served as certificates of admission, however, and these were made on Jersey Jones' mimeograph. The only loser seems to have been Uncle Sam, since the 10 cent admission tax was not included in the price on the theory the customers were buying programs.

Joe Gives Poor Performance.

Whether the delay in starting or the holiday enthusiasm of the crowd may be blamed or not, Louis gave his most indifferent performance of the week. He boxed four rounds alternately with George Fitch and Jim Ritchie.

Joe's opponents jabbed and danced around the ring with Louis in pursuit and while the champion occasionally caught up with each along the ropes or in a corner, he was decisively outpointed. Ritchie gave a flashy exhibition and the crowd cheered him.

Louis appeared to be sullen. Altho he never has been a pollyanna in the ring he was completely dead pan today except when he stopped in the first round to rebuke a ringside fan who had encouraged, "Let's see how he [Fitch] looks on the floor.

CHICAGO PREPS CAPTURE THREE OF FOUR RACES

Ecorse Senior Eight Defeats Waller.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Oarsmen don't mind a little rain, and neither do gray skies and chill winds dampen the ardor of those who follow water sports. Despite a drizzle which let up only at intervals, 15,000 spectators lined the banks of the Lincoln park lagoon and other vantage spots yesterday afternoon to watch the first annual Central States Schoolboy Rowing association regatta, under the sponsorship of THE TRIBUNE, the Lincoln Park Boat club, and the Chicago Park district.

In addition to the crowning of champions out of a field of prep oarsmen from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Missouri, the crowd saw two fine exhibitions between the national champion University of Washington varsity and junior varsity eights against Wisconsin's varsity and freshman crews.

Starting from the south end of the lagoon, the collegians gave an exhibition of rhythmic rowing and more than a glimpse of the powerful strokes with which they will send their sleek 60 footers over the Hudson river June 25 in the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Badger Frosh Gain Tie.

Washington's varsity finished its one mile stint half a length ahead of Wisconsin, after the Badgers' powerful frosh crew and the Huskies' junior varsity had hit the finish line at the same time.

Both coaches, Al Ulbrickson of Washington, and Allen Walz of Wisconsin, agreed before race time that the meeting of their forces would not be a representative test of strength. Yet when eight enthusiastic lads, fired by the sharp commands of their coxswains, feel the touch of water and hear their school songs rolling out of the bull horns of the amplifying system, it does something to them. As a result they bent to their task with enthusiasm and drew cheers from the top-coated and umbrella waving onlookers.

The Wisconsin frosh took a half length lead at the beginning, and this margin began to fade as they passed under the old stone bridge, the halfway mark. The Huskies gradually caught up and there they were, even stephen, at the finish. Their time was 5:04.8.

Chicagoans Win 3 of 4.

The varsity eights started evenly, whipped up their stroking as they passed the boat house, and raced, shell and shell, most of the remaining distance, with the far westerners half a length in front when they arrived at the old Diversey beach. The time was 5:16.4.

Chicago schoolboys had a big day, capturing three of the four championships. The junior crew from Lane Technical High school defeated Grosse Pointe, Mich., High school for the title after eliminating an all-star prep eight from St. Louis. Paul Murdock of Schurz High school won the single sculls championship with a decisive triumph over Bob Steiger of Grosse Pointe, and the four oared shell from Lane Tech defeated the Ecorse, Mich., quartet for the other championship.

The senior eight from Waller High, which last Sunday won the Chicago schoolboy crown by defeating their rivals from Lane Tech, won their way to the finals, but found that Ecorse High packed too much power for them. Each senior finalist scored a mild upset on its first trip on the lagoon.

Waller Upsets Grosse Pointe.

The Waller boys eliminated Grosse Pointe, which came to Chicago as champion of the Canadian Henley of 1940. Ecorse removed the highly regarded crew from Culver Military academy to move into the finals, beating the Indiana entry by five-quarters of a length. In each race the champions negotiated the five-eighths of a mile in three minutes flat.

The Lane juniors' victory over Ecorse in the finals was even more decisive, the margin at the finish being a length and a half. The time was 3:15.8.

When the schoolboy and university shells weren't dashing down the water, Sea Scout cutters and canoeists were giving the spectators something else to cheer about. Six 26-foot and six 28-foot cutters started out on the championship trail. In the 26-foot finals, Sea Hawk came chopping thru the water less than a yard ahead of Lightning, making the five-eighths of a mile in 5:32.5. The 28 foot final was every bit as exciting and almost as close with Victor leading Legionnaire to the finish line in 5:34.4.

Yes, They Dunk the Coxswains.

The frequent plunges into the water by the canoe tilting contestants, not to mention the dunking of victorious coxswains, an old custom, might have had something to do with the spectators' good nature, in the chill, gray setting.

The canoeists and canoe fans thought the highlight came when Max Deffner took a header out of his boat during the finals of the senior tilting exhibition. This was the first

Bass Season Opens Today in Illinois

BY BOB BECKER.

The waters of the Fox lake chain will be the destination of hundreds of Chicagoland fishermen today, the opening day of the northern Illinois bass season. Altho most of the northern Illinois waters naturally are fished heavily by thousands of Chicago residents, they still produce some pretty fair catches when wind and weather conditions are right, and especially on week days when there are fewer fishermen tossing lures. The state department of conservation annually stocks the lakes.

The daily limit of bass [either large or small mouth] is 10, possession limit 20. It is illegal to keep bass less than 10 inches in length.

Busy on All Lakes.

Most anglers will invade the lakes in the Fox lake chain, including Fox lake, Pistakee, Grass, Nippersink, Channel, and Marie, but the smaller lake, such as Fourth, Crystal, Bangs, Slocum, Cedar, Deep, and others also will have their share of plug casters and fly fishermen.

Altho a large majority of local fishermen go into the northern section of the state for their bass fishing, conservation officials recently made a survey of downstate waters which shows there are fairly large bass populations in a number of river backwaters and smaller lakes. The investigation was made by the state natural history survey.

High Water Impedes Fishing.

Spring lake, near Pekin, regularly yields many good bass, and Lake Chautauqua, above Havana, has over 3,000 acres of bass water. Lake Sinicarte, a backwater of the Illinois river above Beardstown, has many good bass holes, but the river is high now. Bill Boyd of Sheldons Grove, an enthusiastic fly fisherman who fishes Snicarte every year, advises us that the fishing should be better in a few weeks when the river level goes down.

Other Illinois bass fishing places recommended by the state natural history survey are Lake Springfield, Kickapoo state park, west of Danville; Weldon Springs lake, near Clinton, and Lincoln lakes, near Lincoln. Anglers who prefer river fishing should investigate the Spoon river, Kickapoo creek, the Mackinaw, the Sangamon, and three branches of the Vermilion river draining into the Wabash.

Secreet, Aron Fight Tonight at Marigold

Sammy Secreet, 21 year old boxer from Cannonsburg, Pa., will receive an opportunity to enhance his ranking tonight in a 10 round bout against Milt Aron of Chicago, listed among the 10 best welterweights by the National Boxing association, in Marigold outdoor arena, Broadway and Grace street.

It will be Secreet's first appearance against a recognized opponent. Because of an excellent record he has compiled during his one year as a professional, Secreet must be conceded a chance to score an upset, especially since Aron has not been overimpressive in recent weeks.

Lack of experience may be one of Secreet's drawbacks, but he likely will make up for this apparent weakness by utilizing to the utmost his great stamina. In scoring seven straight victories, Sammy displayed an aggressive, two fisted style. Inasmuch as Aron, who has been fighting in the money ranks for seven years, also goes where the fighting is, the contest is not expected to go the limit.

Aron Tries Home Comeback.

Aron, who is 24 years old, will be making his first Chicago appearance since suffering a humiliating defeat by Steve Mamakos in the Coliseum last Nov. 25, a setback which put Milt out of action for five months.

An interesting 10 round semi-windup will pit Quentin [Babe] Breese of Milwaukee against Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, Man. Both are seasoned lightweights, Breese being rated sixth leading contender and Bill eighth by the NBA. Breese is favored to win due to his all around ability. Marquart, however, will be dangerous as long as he remains erect, because of the dynamite he carries in both hands.

McBride Seeks Revenge.

Frank McBride, Chicago middleweight, will attempt to reverse a previous defeat dealt him in a return contest of 10 rounds with Johnny Colan of New York. Colan, only 19 years old, has won 33 of his 36 fights, 23 by knockouts.

An eight round preliminary brings together two hard hitting lightweights, Floyd Hagen of St. Paul, Minn., and Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont. Nick Castiglione, west side 138 pound battler, and Willie Joyce, 1937 Chicagoland Golden Gloves featherweight title holder, who were beaten in their last starts, each will seek to redeem himself in an eight round opener.

BUSY GOLF WEEK OPENS; PLAY PGA SECTION TRIALS

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago district golf calendar, never exactly an empty one, bulges to bursting this week with three major events and a number of invitation tournaments. There is also a local complexion to the Western Golf association's 29th annual junior battle over the Iowa State college course in Ames, Ia.

Today's program includes the Illinois section's qualifying round for the national professional championship, a 36 hole test at Brookwood, and the Western Golf association's annual gathering for its Evans scholars of Northwestern university, to be held at Bob o' Link. A small but fancy field of pros will assemble at Brookwood this morning to fight for the seven berths allotted to this section for the national tournament proper, which will be played at Denver's Cherry Hills club from July 7 to 13.

Juniors Play at Ames.

Thirty-two qualifiers will come out of the Western Junior medal play argument at Ames tomorrow, beginning match play Wednesday and concluding with Friday's championship match. Tomorrow's qualifying play also will serve to determine the team championship, awarded to the low scoring threesome from any one school or club. The Western Junior is now definitely established as a national event, since the U. S. G. A. presents no regular tournament for these boys between the ages of 16 and 20.

Wednesday will find the Western conference team and individual races, both over a 72 hole distance, getting under way at the Mill Road Farm course in Lake Forest. Thirty-six holes will be played Wednesday, and 36 Thursday. Both William Gilbert of Ohio State and the Illinois squad will defend the crowns they won last year. The Big Ten meet will be an ideal warmup for the National Collegiate Athletic association tournament, opening next Monday over the Ohio State course.

Women's Outing at Ridge.

Wednesday's program also includes North Shore's Silver Tassel, Elmhurst's Blowout, Edgewater's Hy-Jinx, and the first one day event of the Chicago Women's District Golf association at Ridge.

Thursday's schedule includes the annual Chicago Association of Commerce tourney at Medinah, and the regular West District league matches at Riverside.

Friday will be the occasion for the most imposing Club Relations day the Chicago District Golf association ever has essayed. Officials of every golf association in the vicinity not only will play afternoon golf but also will take part in morning and evening discussions on the game.

Cardinals Halt Dodgers, 3 to 0, After 8-1 Loss

St. Louis, Mo., June 15 (AP).—St. Louis' Cardinals clung to the National league lead by beating Brooklyn, 3 to 0, in the second game of a double header today after the Dodgers had walloped the leaders, 8 to 1, in the first contest.

A double victory for Brooklyn would have put it in first place by 6 percentage points. And it might have been a double triumph except for Don Padgett's sensational one handed stop in the third inning of the second game with the bases filled. That pulled Rookie Pitcher Ernie White out of a hole and he went thru the game yielding only two hits—both doubles.

Baseball's Men in Blue

[This is the seventh of a series on National league umpires.]

George Barr.

GEORGE BARR, doughty professor of the National league umpiring staff, like George Magerkurth, was born in Kansas and escaped at an early age. Born in 1896, he lived in Kansas briefly before accompanying his family to Tulsa, Okla., his present residence, and the scene of his early manhood. George never played baseball but was seized with a consuming urge to be an umpire while he was an usher in the Tulsa ball park. That was in 1915 and nine years later he had enough sandlot experience to qualify for a job in the Western association, after having attracted favorable attention thru his work in seven games between two Negro teams.

Barr worked in the Western association thru 1924 and 1925 and was in the Texas league in 1926 until he was purchased by the National league and reported Aug. 31, 1931.

George is a peppery fellow, excitable at times, but always has his job well in hand. He is topped on the seniority list by only Reardon and Magerkurth. EDWARD BURNS.

UNIONS REFUSE TO END STRIKE AT 11 SHIPYARDS

San Francisco Tieup Five Weeks Old.

San Francisco, Cal., June 15 (AP).—Continuing their five week old strike, members of AFL and CIO machinists' unions today voted down proposals to return to work in 11 San Francisco bay area shipyards.

The AFL unionists' vote was 400 in favor of going back to work, against 585 opposing. CIO machinists, at a separate meeting, voted 56 in favor and 359 against.

[Meanwhile, in Camden, N. J., union representatives of 50,000 CIO workers in east coast shipyards indorsed the two year no strike agreement proposed by the Office of Production Management. The contract calls for wage increases of about 12 per cent, adding about 220 million dollars to a pay roll now in excess of 5 billions. It will affect 55 ship plants.]

Defy International's Order.

Today's meeting of AFL machinists was the direct result of the AFL International Association of Machinists Executive board's order that the men return eto work. CIO machinists met to consider "newest developments."

Both AFL and CIO machinists went on strike at midnight, May 9, interrupting work on more than 500 million dollars worth of arms contracts.

The walkout was ordered soon after a coastwide master agreement, intended to stablize wages and hours in the shipbuilding industry, had been negotiated by the Defense Mediation board.

The crux of the situation was said to be lack of a closed shop contract with the Bethlehem Steel's shipbuilding division here. Union members said unofficially that if they could get this contract the rest of the dispute would be settled quickly.

Lumber Strike Near End.

Olympia, Wash., June 15 (AP).—Striking members of the CIO International Woodworkers of America were reported voting 30 to 1 tonight to accept a Defense Mediation board proposal which would send them back to work in 53 northwest lumber camps and mills.

Today's vote was taken to gain approval of the membership for the back-to-work proposal accepted last night by 500 delegates to a union convention here.

The four week strike, tying up the majority of mills and camps in western Washington, has put some 22,000 men out of work. Numerous preparedness contracts were held up. Employers were expected to reach a decision by tomorrow on the mediation board proposals.

Troops to Leave Plane Plant.

Rochester, N. Y., June 15 (AP).—Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said tonight army troops will be withdrawn from the North American aviation company plant at Inglewood, Cal., "in a few days."

TWO CHICAGOANS NAMED TO ARMY REALTY COUNCIL

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—The appointment of a national advisory council on real estate, composed of 14 real estate dealers from 11 cities and including two Chicagoans, to assist the quartermaster corps in the acquisition of land for the army was announced today by the war department.

The Chicagoans named are Newton C. Farr, senior partner of Farr & Co., and Kenneth E. Rice, vice president in charge of the title division of the Chicago Title and Trust company.

At the same time the department designated nine real estate directors, each of whom will be directly in charge of land purchases and leases in one of the quartermaster corps' construction zones. The director named for the Chicago area is Graham Aldis, partner in Aldis & Co.

WARNER BROS. LISTS $2,782,544 AS NET PROFIT

New York, June 15 [Special].—The report of Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., and its subsidiaries for the 26 weeks ended on March 1, shows a net operating profit of $2,782,544. This is equivalent, after allowances for current dividend requirements on the preferred stock, to 70 cents a share on the 3,701,090 shares of common stock outstanding.

The figure compares with a net operating profit of $1,518,497 for the like period of the previous year.

Net profit before charges for amortization, depreciation of properties and normal federal income taxes was $6,381,844, income was $51,009,860.

Retail Grocers To Buy $15,000 In Defense Bonds

The purchase of $15,000 of government defense bonds was ordered yesterday by the board of directors of the National Association of Retail Grocers, which is holding its 44th annual convention in the Palmer House this week. Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, secretary-manager, said the directors felt that the nation's grocers, "who will play an important part in defense thru their efforts in the food field, should take an active part in cooperating with the government in other ways as well."

Winter Wheat Crop Damaged by Hail, Floods

Rain, floods, wind, hail and disease took their toll of the winter wheat crop last week, but yesterday the grain trade still predicted that by fall the United States would have the largest supply of the grain in history stored in its graneries. Taking government estimates as a basis for their predictions, experts forecast a wheat supply for the 1941-'42 season of 1 billion 300 million bushels.

The department of agriculture had reported last Wednesday that June 1 conditions indicated a winter wheat crop of 697,692,000 bushels and a spring wheat yield of 213 million bushels.

U. S. to Loan 85 Per Cent.

On this near record wheat production the government has announced that it will lend farmers approximately 98 cents a bushel in a move to give the farmer the same purchasing power for his wheat dollar as it had between 1912 and 1914.

Vice President Henry A. Wallace, the original proponent of crop loans, said he questioned the feasibility of advancing as much as 85 per cent of the parity price.

He said the recently enacted loan program was subject to grave doubt because of the large appropriation necessary to make up losses which might result.

Place Ceiling Over Corn.

Meantime the department of agriculture made two announcements that had widespread effect on other grains. It disclosed that it was putting a ceiling on the corn market and was starting to bring supplies out of its steel bins in the corn belt.

The department announced it planned to "support" the soy bean market at $1 a bushel.

The department said that larger production of soy bean oil was needed because supplies of other oils had been interrupted by the war.

Grain Elevators Granted 40 Hour Week Exemption

Washington, D. C., June 15 (AP).—Grain elevators today were granted 14 weeks of seasonal exemption from the 40 hour week. The wage-hour administration, announcing the decision, said employés might work up to 12 hours a day, or 56 hours a week, without overtime pay during the period. The National Trade council and the Millers' National federation had asked for seasonal exemption to receive grain, soy beans, flaxseed, and buckwheat.

DEPOSITARY BONDS.

Will all the banks have to buy the new 2 per cent bonds being issued by the treasury? What are the terms of the new issue?—L. E. J.

Answer: The special issue of 2 per cent depositary bonds are sold upon voluntary subscription only to certain commercial banks which act as depositaries and financial agents for the treasury. The treasury designates a limited number of banks to transact certain government business, such as holding government funds or providing cash for government pay rolls. The new bonds will be issued only to cover such deposits of federal funds.

The bonds are issued at par, bear 2 per cent interest, and mature in 12 years. The bonds may be redeemed at the option of the treasury or the depositary bank at par and accrued interest at any time upon 30 days' notice.

The bonds are registered in the name of the treasury and are held in trust for the banks, and, therefore, are not transferable. The bonds are acceptable to the treasury as collateral required from the banks to secure federal deposits.

The purpose of the new issue, according to the treasury, was to provide the depositary banks a fixed and uniform income on the collateral securities as payment for the services rendered the government.

CHAIN STORE.

On what ground did the Chain Store Investors Trust obtain an exemption from the federal investment company act? What is the present financial status of the company?—P. L. D.

Answer: As a result of a decision by the trustees of the Chain Store Investors Trust last February 10 to make no further offerings of shares to the public, the trust became eligible for exemption under the investment company act. The law excepts from the definition of an investment company any concern which has less than 100 share holders and is not selling its shares to the public. The trust had outstanding 6,020 shares of beneficial interest held by 44 persons on March 24 last.

The trust, organized in 1935 as a Massachusetts voluntary association, invests its funds mainly in chain store and other retail enterprises. The market value of its investments last March 31 was $89,508 against $119,806 a year earlier, and asset value per share was $15.17 against $18.43.

BUILDER OF MACHINE TOOLS ASKS U. S. TO CLARIFY ITS NEEDS

A plea that the government tell toolmakers definitely what machine tools are needed for arms production and when deliveries are wanted was made yesterday by C. J. Stilwell, president of Warner & Swasey company, Cleveland machine tool builder. Arms planners have not given industry enough facts, Stilwell said.

"If tomorrow's increased machine tool production is to be properly allocated to defense needs and unnecessary expansion is to be avoided, machine tool builders must be given more facts as to types and sizes of machine tools required, amounts required, and dates on which deliveries are desired," he said.

"Certainly it would seem possible that the government might be able to give us, with some degree of probability, a summary of what we will be expected to produce in 1942."

TVA MAY RATION ITS POWER SOON, MANAGER SAYS

Knoxville, Tenn., June 15 [Special].—The vast Tennessee Valley authority may soon join the parade of southeastern utilities in rationing electric power for nonarmament and domestic users in order to avert a breakdown in military production and offset the shortage due to lack of water.

This information came today from J. A. Krug, TVA manager of power, who said, "We are giving the matter closest study and it may be necessary to adopt the rationing plan."

The TVA has insisted, since the southeastern power situation became acute in mid-May, that rationing would be unnecessary. However, private utilities in Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, and Mississippi are preparing to clamp down on power this week.

ARGENTINA SHIPS 788,000 CASES OF FRUIT TO THE U. S.

New York, June 15 [Special].—Argentina has shipped more than 788,000 cases of grapes, pears, and plums to New York during the late winter and spring season, according to records of Moore-McCormack Lines, it was announced today by Robert C. Lee, executive vice president. He said the last cargo of the southern fruit season would arrive tomorrow on the liner Brazil, which brought the first shipment early in February.

Shipments of pears from the Argentine to New York are more than 30 per cent higher than last year, when 249,238 cases arrived by all steamship lines, Lee said. Grape shipments have increased 8,928 cases over 1940, and the volume of plums is also 2½ times as large as in 1940.

STANDARD TELLS ITS POSITION ON OIL FOR JAPAN

Any Embargo Is Up to U. S., It Holds.

New York, June 15 (AP).—Standard Oil company [New Jersey], in its annual report to employés, today explained its position with regard to shipments of oil to foreign destinations.

Recently, in this country, there has been sharp public criticism of government policies permitting shipments of petroleum products to Japan, to the tune of around 1,500,000 barrels monthly.

"The Standard-Vacuum Oil company, in which we have 50 per cent interest, acting in conjunction with Dutch-British oil companies, has continued to supply a portion of Japan's requirements, principally from the Netherlands East Indies," said Jersey Standard.

Governments Fully Informed.

"The Netherlands Indian government, as well as the American and British, were fully informed of the agreement made by the companies with the Japanese interests.

"In charting the course of our business," said the company, "we have been guided by two principles:

"1. It is not within the province of a private company to constitute itself as judge on the rights and wrongs of international disputes, establish embargoes of its own, nor to defy embargoes established by political authorities. These are functions of government, not of industry.

"2. As an American corporation Standard Oil company [New Jersey] owes its first duty to the United States. As long as our country maintains normal relations with a particular nation, we as a company must carry on our operations in the same manner.

Shutdown Might Bring Crisis.

"Competent newspaper observers have suggested that to shut off all petroleum supplies from Japan would precipitate an immediate crisis in the Pacific which might involve the United States," the company continued. "Whatever the merits of this conjecture, it seems clear that no step should be taken by private industry on its own initiative which could affect the international relations of our country.

"In the conduct of its foreign business Standard Oil company [New Jersey] has constantly conferred with the department of state and has endeavored to adhere strictly to the policy of our government."

WHAT JAPAN GETS

Washington, June 15 [Special].—The Foreign Policy association said in a report today that the United States exported 24,600,000 barrels of oil to Japan in 1940 out of a total of 40 to 45 million barrels consumed in Japan and Manchuria.

The report said Tokio had been able to force Britain and the United States to sell oil by threatening to strike at the East Indies if an embargo were applied, and added: "Washington and London appear to agree on the wisdom of propitiating the Japanese by furnishing them sufficient oil to meet, or more than meet, their needs."

NORTH WESTERN ROAD TO AID U. S. SCRAP IRON HUNT

A survey thruout the 10,000 miles of territory served by the North Western railroad to determine the amount of dormant scrap metal available for armament purposes in small communities and agricultural sections not served thru normal trade channels was ordered yesterday by R. L. Williams, chief executive officer of the railroad.

"I found that many small communities had dumps full of old automobiles, farm implements, and other discarded metal objects which were simply rusting away," he explained, after a recent inspection tour of the road.

"With the government calling on the railroads for every ounce of available metal, I have a feeling that there is a tremendous quantity of dormant scrap in these communities."

Alcoa Line to Repaint Ships Gray to Save on Aluminum

New York, June 15 [Special].—To conserve aluminum for rearmament, the Alcoa Steamship company will repaint its 51 ships gray instead of aluminum, as they are now painted.
